'Christmas in Many Lands' Due Today at Disneyland

A daylight fireworks display with an international good-will theme, the unveiling of "the world's largest bass drum," and the appearance of five stars from Walt Disney's new motion picture "Babes in Toyland" have been added to the line-up for Disneyland's "Christmas in Many Lands" parade beginning at 1:30 p.m. today.

The fireworks display will mark the beginning of the parade. Flags of 100 nations will be shot into the air and each will unfurl as it floats to the ground.

Ed Wynn, Annette, Kevin Corcoran, Gene Sheldon and Henry Calvin — all appearing in the new Disney film — will ride in the "Parade of the Toys" sequence of today's procession.

O'Brien Gets Retail Post

Torrance resident Ronald J. O'Brien has been appointed supervisor of Los Angeles zone control and operations, retail, for B. F. Goodrich Tire Co. It is announced by A. R. Laret, zone manager, retail sales.

O'Brien resides at 21917 La-deene St. He was born in Los Angeles and attended San Jose State College.

He joined B. F. Goodrich at Long Beach in 1954. He then became credit and operating manager for the company's retail store in Burbank and later held the same post at BFG stores in East Los Angeles and Torrance. Following those assignments he was manager of BFG stores in Torrance and Long Beach.

O'Brien now headquarters at the company's Los Angeles zone offices at 3525 S. Garfield Ave.

THEY'LL PASS in review down Main Street along with nearly 3,000 performers, dressed in the colorful clothing of 30 nations and presenting holiday songs, dances and toy customs from countries on five continents.

Disneyland visitors will also view "The Big Bass Drum," largest in the world, standing 10 and one-half feet high, played by Mickey Mouse seated on top; and the release of 500 pigeons at the start of the parade and 10,000 balloons at its conclusion.

Music will be supplied by 18 marching bands, and 23 floats depicting Christmas toys representative of participating nations will be on view. Along the line of march, parade performers will toss 1,000 small stuffed toys and more than 10,000 flowers and pieces of candy to the crowd.

THE PARADE is the kickoff of two special holiday entertainments at Disneyland through December 31. Featured daily events during the period are "Parade of the Toys" at 1:30 and 5:15 p.m., the lighting of the 24-foot star atop Matterhorn Mountain, and a new attraction, the "Babes in Toyland Village."

Following the parade, Dennis Morgan will narrate "The Christmas Story" at 5 p.m.
