Thriftmart Picks 'Checker of Year'

Mrs. Dolores M. Porter has been chosen "Checker of the Year" at Thriftmart, Inc., it was announced by Roger M. Lavery Sr., president. Mrs. Porter was the winner of a company wide competition among checker-cashiers based on work performance standards, including courtesy, efficiency, neatness, and cash-register accuracy. She is employed in the Thriftmart supermarket at 8662 S. Placentia Ave., Anaheim.

As the company winner, Mrs. Porter will compete in the state and regional competition of the international "Checker of the Year" awards. Should she win regional honors, she will be among 10 regional winners to be flown to the annual convention of Super Market Institute in Chicago in May. If she weathers tests and interviews at Chicago, she could become the international "Checker of the Year," representative of checker-cashiers throughout the industry. Her prizes would include a two-week vacation tour of Hawaii. If she is one of two runners-up, she will enjoy a vacation at the Hollywood Beach Hotel, Hollywood, Fla.

As Thriftmart "Checker of the Year," she won an all-expense paid vacation in Las Vegas, a mink stole, a wrist watch, and the statuette "Tilly," the food industry's "Oscar" and TV's "Emmy" award.

"The choice was a difficult one for the judges," Lavery pointed out. "The winner is a representative of so many checker-cashiers in our company"
