... Ann Landers

(Continued from Page 17) become an irritant. It's an accumulation of small things over the years — such as "May I borrow your car during lunch hour if you're not using it?" Or "Would you mind dropping this off at the post office on your way home?"

I resent his gall and I could kick myself for allowing him to impose on me. Yet I hate to say no because when I refuse him something I feel guilty. What is the solution? —DUCK SOUP

Dear Ducky: People who voice this complaint often fail to remember that THEY make "small requests," too. If you wish to enjoy a clear conscience about saying no, make certain that you never ask this man to do you a favor. And I mean never.

To learn the knack of feeling comfortable with the opposite sex, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How To Be Date Bait," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed envelope. Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Copyright, 1962 Field Enterprises, Inc.
