Session Held For Student's

Bill Irwin, professional organist and teacher, recently served as critic for 12 organ pupils.

Purpose of the event, in which each student played privately, was to provide constructive criticism and merited praise. Taking part were Christien Thompson, Debbie Raftis, Judy Frisbie, Kathy Bynum, Todd James, Ann Johns, Bruce Crosley, Marylin Baker, Lynn Perren, Jacque Perren, Vicky Croslin and Michele Kurtz.

Ink Spots Return to Marineland

The Ink Spots, famed for their mellow ballads and hauntingly nostalgic singing style, have returned to Marineland Restaurant in Palos Verdes, marking another repeat appearance of the international favorites of song and rhythm in the "Porpoise Room."

They have been signed for a five-week engagement by owner George M. Foster, who is presenting the close harmony group nightly except Mondays through July 1.

Modern Dance Class Offered

The Torrance YWCA will offer a concentrated summer course in modern dance for teenagers which will cover basic and more advanced technique.

Janne Bosco, class instructor, says that this class will provide an excellent opportunity to get a creative as well as a physical workout at a very minimum rate. Class enrollment is limited. Call the "Y" for further information. FA 0-2255.

Navy Offers Program for June Grads

In keeping with the Navy policy of "Stay in school and graduate," the Navy will offer greater school quotas to the forthcoming June graduates, than in any previous month. This announcement came from Chief Ernest Roth, the local Navy recruiter.

Post high school training is available in many varied fields, including nuclear, Polaris, electronics, electrical, machinery, hospital and clerical. Students who obviously will graduate in June may be processed now as high school graduates and be committed to school programs of their choice.

Chief Roth requests students to make appointments for testing on Saturdays or evenings, so as not to absent themselves from school for this purpose. For appointment call at the Navy recruiting station at 1520 Cravens Ave., Torrance, or telephone FA 0-3141.

Turnout Use Required

"Many motorists think of turnouts on two-lane highways merely as a convenience. Actually, the law requires drivers to use turnouts under certain conditions," California Highway Patrol Commissioner Bradford M. Crittenden said.

"Whenever a slow-moving vehicle impedes the progress of five or more vehicles, the driver must turn off the roadway at an officially designated turnout. A slow-moving vehicle is defined as one proceeding at a speed less than the normal flow of traffic."

Commissioner Crittenden said that turnouts have been provided on two-lane highways in many areas where terrain and traffic conditions warrant. They can be identified by signs one-quarter mile prior to the turnout, and at the turnout location itself.

"Proper use of turnouts offers two motoring benefits. Traffic flow is speeded, and the chances are reduced of head-on collisions caused by impatient motorists who have gambled on passing when insufficient clearance was available," the commissioner said.
