

Rugged Weather Enemy of Boaters

Bad weather is a leading enemy of pleasure boaters, according to the committee for National Safe Boating Week. Check the weather forecast before you leave. If a storm or squall blows up while you are out, make for the nearest shelter on shore. If the water gets choppy, seat your passengers on the bottom of the boat, keeping them as close to the centerline as possible, head your boat into the waves and reduce speed. Should your motor fail, or if the sea is so strong you cannot make headway, attach a sea anchor from the bow to keep you headed into the wind. A bucket or shirt with the neck and sleeves knotted together attached to a line will do the job in an emergency. Remain calm—panic spreads easily.

"Vacations are not so hard to plan. Your boss tells you when and your wife tells you where." — Allen A. Koreivo, Rutherford (N.J.) South Bergen News.
