Librarian, Library Mark 25th Anniversary Today

Mrs. Margaret M. Dowd and the citizens of Waleria celebrate a double anniversary today. Mrs. Dowd celebrates her 25th anniversary with the library system in Torrance, while Waleria residents will celebrate the 25th anniversary of the opening of the Waleria Library.

THE WALTERIA Library opened July 22, 1937, at 22456 Hawthorne Blvd. Since that time it has been moved four times, and will move again in September.

The library is currently housed in the old Waleria Fire Station, but in September, Mrs.

Dowd and Miss Mary Byers will pack the books and files and carry them across the street to a new building in Waleria Park.

ON HAND to help celebrate the anniversaries will be numerous friends and patrons of the library. Included among the group are the assistants whom Mrs. Dowd has worked with for the past 25 years. Mrs. Dorothy Jamieson, retired chief librarian in Torrance, and Mrs. J. B. Mosley, Library Commission, also dropped in for the afternoon.

Mrs. Dowd looks forward to moving to the new building after so many moves. At least one such was forced—a car smashed into the building.

lived in a foster home in Massachusetts, not even knowing his father was alive.

Then he heard his father was still alive. Tony and his sister, who had been living in separate foster homes, moved to California, only for the boy to face another blow.

Tony and his parents could not get along and the boy was shifted from one foster home to another in search of happiness.

WHEN HE WAS 15, he lost his leg and it was discovered he had incurable cancer. Even then, happiness did not come until May of this year when Mrs. Carolyn Tamulinas took in the boy.

Mrs. Tamulinas and her husband treated him as their own. They loved him and the feeling was returned. Tony called Mrs. Tamulinas, Mom.

Tony was happy; he smiled and laughed and knew he had friends.

But it is all over now. Only one thing remains — Tony's wish for a "Christian burial."

BIBLE SCHOOL . . . Officials of the Western Avenue Baptist Vacation Bible School which started Monday prepare for the program. Theme for the school is "Witnessing For Christ." The church is at Western Avenue and 253rd Street. (Herald Photo)

Western Avenue Baptist Church To Begin Vacation Bible School

Western Avenue Baptist Church will begin its Vacation Bible School on Monday.

Mrs. Jean Titus, chairman of Children's Work, has announced the theme for the two-week school as, "Witnessing for Christ."

Each weekday at 9:30 a.m. children from four years of age through the sixth grade will be instructed in crafts, planned recreation, singing, and other activities.

The Rev. Chas. T. Hughes, Jr., will include magic tricks in the opening sessions. Registration cards are already being filled out in anticipation of a large turnout, Mrs. Titus said.

The administrative staff will include The Rev. Mr. Hughes, Pastor; Mrs. Norma Condon, superintendent, and Mrs. Bonnie Ryerson, secretary.

Instructing will be Gloria Howey, Betty Summerford, Emily Tichenor, and Jack Childers, beginners; Billie Wagester, Ora Baker, Hazel Fields, and Bruce Barton, first and second grade; Margie Hughes, Gladys Bidwell, Bea Brooks, and Jeanne Gendreau, third and fourth grades, and Jean Titus, Eldon Freeman, Barbara Howard, and Esther Young, fifth and sixth grades.

Health Report Lists City Ills

McDonald's Builds New Restaurants
Expansion of the McDonald's hamburger restaurant chain is now underway in California.
Seven new McDonald's restaurants, representing a total investment of $875,000, are now being built. The new units are in Orange, Redwood City, Santa Clara, San Bernardino, Los Angeles, Compton, and Long Beach.
Restaurants are currently located in nine other California cities, including Torrance. McDonald's is a nation-wide chain, currently doing business in 41 states. Last year 380 restaurants were open, and construction of 62 new units is now under way.
McDonald's specializes in a limited 10-item menu, and has sold more than 600 million hamburgers to date.
