

LIFE'S LIKE THAT

By FRED NEHER

"Better be thinking up some lies for the postcards we're sending back home."

Life in Forestry Aim of Youth

Hugh Tower, 1962 student body president of Narbonne High School, this summer made his first step toward the career which first attracted him when he was a 12-year-old boy hiking with the Torrance YMCA.

Hugh has been working as a fire-fighter with the State Forestry Department in Northern California, putting practice before theory as he fought blazes throughout the Butte Valley area.

YOUNG TOWER, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Tower, came up through the ranks at the Torrance YMCA, beginning as a junior camp counselor while a student at Fleming Junior High. He later was a senior camp and travel counselor as well as president of the Leaders' Club.

With the Y, he traveled to Canada, Yellowstone and to mountain areas throughout the west. His extensive hiking and climbing of the Sierra was climaxed shortly before high school graduation when he and three other high school students from the Torrance area scaled Mt. Whitney.

AN HONOR graduate of Narbonne High, Hugh was in addition to student body president, the varsity yell king, student body vice president, Boys' League sergeant at arms, letterman of the year, a member of the Key Club, Knights and Falcon Hi-Y. His senior classmates voted him the "most popular boy" and "the friendliest boy."

This month, Hugh enters Humboldt College at Arcata, Calif., to begin studies in forestry and wildlife management. A newly inducted member of the Marine Corps Reserve, he will serve as a Marine officer after college graduation and then plans to begin his career as a forest ranger.

"THE TORRANCE YMCA started me on the way to a lot of this since it was with their activities that I first became interested in conservation work," said Hugh, whose father and brother are both active in a variety of "Y" programs.

His younger brother Tom, now a student at Fleming Junior High School, is currently a junior leader, chaplain of the Mugwumps Junior Hi-Y, captain of his basketball team and a chairman of campfire activities.

Girl's Group To Present Mission Play

The Girl's Auxiliary of the Women's Missionary Society of the Del Amo Southern Baptist Church will present a Mission Pageant Saturday evening at 7:30 at the First Baptist Church of Lomita.

The Auxiliary will give a full presentation of mission needs in several foreign lands. They will be dressed in native costume. This will be the third presentation of the pageant, it having been given previously in the Torrance Church, and again last week in the First Southern Baptist Church of Manhattan Beach. The pageant is directed by Mrs. Mary Howes, Torrance.

Local girls participating are Nancy Howes, Martha Gilstrap, Carol Ray, Gail Meeker, Cynthia Bishop, Sheila Harness, Juanita Mills, Dana Duley, and Diane Zuver.

Personality Course Set

For Torrance area teachers, sociologists and others interested, University Extension at UCLA will offer a full adult class in Personality Structure and Development starting Thursday in Room 302 of North High School, 3620 W. 182nd St.

Dr. Charlyne T. Herbert, chief of Clinical Psychology Section, Psychology Service of Veterans Administration Hospital in Long Beach, instructs the local course.

She will discuss major theories such as those of Freud, Fromm, Horney, Sullivan, Miller and Dollard, Lewin, and others, during 18 weekly Thursday 7-9:30 p.m. lectures which make up an accredited course.

A duplicate class in the subject starts at UCLA Wednesday evening, Sept. 19. Registrations will be accepted at both initial sessions.
