

Art Auction Scheduled Here Sunday

Art enthusiasts from all over Southern California will be heading for the Southwest area Sunday, Sept. 23, the date set by the Artists Co-Op Gallery for its once-a-year art auction.

The auction, traditionally one of the most popular events of its kind in the Southland, will be held at 3020 Pacific Coast Hwy. in Waleria near Hawthorne Boulevard, in buildings leased by the gallery for the occasion.

Mrs. Dale Brent Sexton, Southwest painter who is president of the Artists Co-Op, announced that more than 200 paintings, drawings, prints, sculptures, and art objects will be included in the auction. The auction will be held from 2 to 5 p.m. and from 7:30 to 10 p.m.

More than 500 persons participated in last year's public auction, Mrs. Sexton said.

ON SATURDAY, Sept. 22, the day before auctioneer Sandy Jensen wields his gavel, the art to be auctioned will be available for an advance view by the public in the auction building, Mrs. Sexton said.

She added that there is unlimited parking adjacent to the auction building, which is next door to the Smith Bros. Fish Shanty, and that refreshments will be served during the auction.

The Artists Co-Op is an organization of 30 professional artists of the Southwest area, who organized two years ago to provide a contemporary Southwest gallery for their works, to promote art appreciation and practice through instructional courses, and to support community efforts in fine arts. The permanent gallery is located in the Plaza in Palos Verdes.

Camp Fire Training Scheduled

Two-hour workshops to retain all guardians of Camp Fire Girls and leaders of Blue Bird fly-ups in the new program revisions and enrichments have been scheduled in the Harbor District, according to Mrs. Jame A. Davis, district training chairman.

The workshop for guardians of fifth and sixth grade Camp Fire Girls will be held Monday, Oct. 1, from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m., at McMaster Park.

Workshops for leaders of third and fourth grade fly-ups the into Camp Fire Girl program will be at McMaster Park, Wednesday, Oct. 3, from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.

Guardians of Junior Hi Camp Fire Girls will meet in their workshops on Tuesday, Oct. 2, from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. at 2452 W. 227th St.

TRAINING WILL be given by Miss Cynthia Keyes, district director, assisted by Mrs. Larry Littrel, training chairman.

One workshop will be attended by guardians of girls going into seventh and eighth grades this fall. Special sessions will give these guardians information for their girls who will participate in the new Junior Hi Camp Fire program level.

Leaders of girls who are nine years old and entering fourth grade, and of fifth grade girls as will guardians who have completed the 6-hour basic training program will attend their respective workshops.

AN ESTIMATED 80 women in the Harbor District will attend these workshops, according to Davis.

They will learn details of the new program level, its costume, and the new Group Torch Bearer rank to be given. There will be a review of the objectives of Camp Fire Girls and the philosophy of progression throughout the total program.
