 home. They all laughed and I felt like a fool.
 The next day I told my best girl friend and she claims I overdid the good behavior bit. She says one kiss wouldn't have killed me. Now I am — CONFUSED

Dear Confused: You did the right thing, so now forget it. High standards are a good device for screening out third raters. If Dick never asks you out again you haven't missed anything.

Dear Ann Landers: I would be the first to admit that the telephone is one of the greatest inventions since the wheel. But it can also be most distracting and a horrible time-killer.

What do you think about people who ring me up at the most inopportune moments just to pass the time of day? Occasionally I love to yak on the phone, like anyone else, but my talkative friends have a talent for calling just when I'm elbow-deep in cookie dough — or in the bath tub — or rushing to get a bus.

How can I cut people off without being abrupt? Is there a "nice" way to tell them you can't talk? Help! Please! — SITTING DUCK

Dear Sitting: The solution I'm about to suggest demands a great deal of will power but it CAN be done.

If you are in the tub, running for a bus, or not able to visit, don't answer the telephone. It's a lot easier, actually, than trying to explain to your Aunt Fanny you can't talk to her.

To learn how to keep your boyfriend in line without losing him, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Necking and Petting—And How Far to Go," enclosing with your request 20¢ in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.
 Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Mrs. Davis Is Honored at Stork Shower

A stork shower was given for Mrs. Linda Davis on Oct. 11 by Misses Denise Hunter and Coleen Wilson at the Hunter home, 2806 Onrado St.

A pink and blue color scheme was carried out in the decorations. Table centerpiece was a large cake decorated with a miniature baby in blue sleepers on a large ruffled pillow. Gifts were placed in a pink and blue decorated basket. Stuffed animals placed about the room added to the decorations. Several "baby" games were played after which Mrs. Davis opened her gifts.

Refreshments were served to Mmes. Marguerite Williams, mother of the honoree, Betty Hunter, Diana Fichter, Donna Gregory, Evelyn Burlingame, Jan Leech, Jerry Moon, Jan Weyant; Misses Karen Lind and Joanne Isbell.

Sending gifts, but unable to attend, were Barbara Campbell, Terry White, Darleen Ronning and Diane Hunter.

Ellis-Jensen Nuptials Read in Baptist Rites

In a mid-afternoon ceremony on Sunday, Oct. 7, Miss Sherry Ellis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Ellis, 20345 S. Harvard, Torrance, exchanged her marriage promises with Ron L. Jensen, son of Mrs. Mildred Jensen, 161119 Arcturus Ave., Gardena.

The bride came to the altar of the Calvary Baptist Church in Gardena on the arm of her father. She wore a traditional gown of embroidered silk organza over white satin. Details were a square neckline, long pointed sleeves and a bouffant floor-length skirt. Her silk illusion veil fell from a small pearl headpiece and she carried a cascade of white roses.

Miss Judy Ellis was her sister's maid of honor. She wore yellow silk organza over a satin sheath and carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums.

Bridesmaids were Misses Rita Sexton and Diane Rusak, Miss Sexton wore coral silk organza and carried coral and white chrysanthemums and Miss Rusak was in jewel blue organza. Her bouquet was of blue and white chrysanthemums.

The bridegroom asked his brother, Gary Jensen, to stand as best man. Ushers were Jim Monaghan and Kelly Moyer.

The Rev. Earl Kuester, pastor, conducted the marriage ceremony.

The 200 wedding guests were entertained at a reception at the Western Country Club. Judy Monaghan registered the guests.

The newly-married couple spent a honeymoon in Carmel and San Francisco. Their new address is 1835 W. 146th St., Gardena.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Jensen are Gardena High graduates. Mrs. Jensen was also graduated from the Flavia Beauty College in Torrance.

MRS. RON L. JENSEN . . . Recent Bride
 Her husband is serving with the United States Navy stationed in Long Beach.

AAUW Study Groups Active On 'Creativity' Programs

With the year's focus on creativity for Palos Verdes-Rolling Hills Branch, American Association of University Women, the creative arts study groups fittingly are offering the widest variety of discussion sections and classes in the branch program.

This year, guiding all sections of the branch, headed by Mrs. Harold O. Simar, is a program planning committee. Chairman is Mrs. H. C. MacLendon, assisted by Mrs. John C. King, Mrs. Eugene H. Klinger and Mrs. Harry G. Petterson.

Comprising the program development committee are all study section chairmen: Mmes. Raymond Odonne, treasurer; Stuart G. Forbes, hospitality; William J. Fleming, publicity.

Extremely popular are the various art sections. Mrs. Robert L. Wattenbarger, chairman, reports that the music appreciation group, led by Mrs. Harry G. Petterson, is filled to overflowing and is now closed. If enough names are added to the waiting list, a second group will be formed.

Art history group chairman is Mrs. Wallace P. Landford. This week's topic was the art of Crete. On Tuesday, Nov. 6, the group will gather at the home of Miss Jenny Tufeld, 21 Mustang Road, Rolling Hills, to hear her discuss the art of India, which she recently visited. Assisting her will be Mrs. May J. Taves.

The gallery trips group has plans for two excursions in the near future. On Thursday, Oct. 25, viewed exhibits by the California Water Color Assn. and by Southern California sculptors at the Long Beach Museum. On Nov. 8, they will view the rare King Tut exhibit at the Los Angeles County Museum. Those interested should phone the chairman, Mrs. Stanley C. Freden.

Members may join painting classes in all media instructed by Elsa Nelson, well-known South Bay painter. For arrangements, call Mrs. Jerome Prizlow. A ceramics class meets each Friday morning at the home of the instructor, Mrs. Harold Hirsch, 12 Cinnamon Lane, Portuguese Bend.

The branch has two active book sections. Anne Morrow Lindbergh will be the topic when the daytime group meets at 9:30 a.m. Monday, Nov. 5, at the home of Mrs. Willard M. Graham, 2552 Via La Selva, Palos Verdes Estates. Chairman is Mrs. Gene L. La Husen.

Women novelists of the 19th century will be discussed by the evening group Monday, Nov. 12, at the home of Mrs. Henry Low, 5213

Calle de Arboles, Torrance. Chairman is Mrs. Edwin D. Rhodes.

Those interested in learning weaving may join a Monday class taught at Long Beach City College by a fellow AAUW member, Mrs. M. Thomas O'Shaughnessy. A creative writing group will hold its initial meeting at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday, Oct. 30, at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Eugene A. Hunter, 600 Yarmouth Road, Palos Verdes Estates.

In the education field, there are two study groups. The higher education section, headed by Mrs. David Steybe, is making a survey among members as to how they use their education in every day life. This group met at 8 p.m., Wednesday, Oct. 24, at the home of Mrs. Donald P. Brough, 609 Yarmouth Road, Palos Verdes Estates.

Branch members are urged by this group to start now collecting brochures and catalogs from their colleges for use at the College Preview Tea, planned for Jan. 22 at Palos Verdes High School.

With Mrs. Robert S. Fraser as chairman, the elementary and secondary education study group is concentrating on vocational education in high schools. Next meeting is set for Thursday evening, Nov. 8, at Mrs. Fraser's home, 616 Yarmouth Road, Palos Verdes Estates.

"Is the Peninsula Serving Its Youth?" is the study topic for the year selected by the social and economic issues group, headed by Mrs. Ralph M. Wood. Her home at 2610 Via Pacheco, will be the setting for the meeting Wednesday evening, Nov. 14, at which Thomas Braley, Palos Verdes police officer, will answer the question, "Do We Have a Juvenile Delinquency Problem?"
