

SAXONS VAULT INTO BAY LEAGUE LEAD

SIDELINE SCAMPER . . . Showing off the grasp of South defender Jerry Mann (28), North quarterback Norm Dow continues down the sideline for extra yardage in Saxon touchdown drive Friday night. Dow faded back to pass, saw his receivers were covered and took off down the right sideline. Ready to aid Mann is Spartan tackle Greg Madden. (Photo by Richard Norman)

Forging to the front of the Bay League football race, ball-hawking North High buried cross-town foe South High by a 20-0 margin Friday night on the victor's field. Previous league leader Redondo suffered a 7-6 defeat at the hands of brutish Mira Costa to put the Saxons on top by a slim half-game margin. North boasts a 4-1 league mark while Redondo and Hawthorne are now 3-1-1 for the circuit campaign.

WINLESS South simply did not have the manpower in the line to halt the ball-control play of the Saxons. Two first quarter fumbles halted North drives, but ironically, it was a South fumble which led to the first Saxon score. The Spartans had driven down to the North 39, but a Tim Roettger fumble was recovered by NHS to halt the threat.

FROM THAT POINT, it took North only six plays to score with slotback Darryl Wilson bulging through left tackle, cutting to the middle, and going 43 yards for the initial TD. Wilson's gallop came on a crucial fourth and three situation for North. The conversion was no good and North led 6-0 with 5:59 left in the second quarter.

BEFORE HALFTIME, North penetrated to the South eight on a series of brilliant end runs by Norm Dow but could not score. North got down to business in the third period, moving the ball 53 yards in 14 plays, consuming a fantastic 5:25 in the drive.

ONCE AGAIN it was Darryl Wilson who punched over for the score. This time the Saxon speedster hit off right tackle and barreled nine yards for the tally. Rich Parker's conversion was good and North led 13-0.

Colt League Sets Election Meeting

New Torrance Colt League baseball officers will be elected tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. at a general meeting at Madrona School.

Parents of 15- and 16-year-old boys living within North, Central, and West Torrance Pony League boundaries are invited to assist in the selection of officers.

Following the kickoff, the Spartans were able to gain but eight yards and were forced to kick and once again North began its slow march toward the goal line.

THIS TIME it took the Saxons 12 plays to move the 53 yards necessary to score. Halfback Carey Hubert picked up 41 yards during the drive, but it was fullback Doug Ball who powered over from just inches out with 9:55 left in the game. Again Parker's kick was good and North led by what turned out to be the final score, 20-0.

SOUTH BEGAN to move the football after the kickoff and imitated the Saxons by using ball-control.

In 13 plays the Spartans advanced from their own 28 to the North 19. There the drive stalled as an aroused North, hearing the result of the Mira Costa-Redondo game, shoved South back to the 39.

SMASH . . . Unable to break loose, North halfback Carey Hubert is dropped by South center John Butterfield for a slight loss Friday night. Hubert was a big gun in the Saxon TD drive, gaining 41 yards. (Photo by Richard Norman)

The Fearless Spectator
By Charles McCabe, Esquire

LOS ANGELES—One had lunch recently at Mike Romanoff's with the lady with those two divine elbows, Miss Jayne Mansfield. The better to inform myself about baseball as status symbol, etc.

Everything was peachy-dandy at Mike's, as usual. The Prince was sibilant and terribly county as we talked of chess at the Lafayette Hotel in his salad days. And mine.

One of JFK's sisters was living it up with her mate, who is somehow connected with the theater.

I had steak tartare, to keep the pores from closing. Miss Mansfield had pate of foie gras, and an odd-ball mixture of coffee and fernet branca. She explained this because she is now in love with a wealthy Brazilian and a poor Italian. The steak tartare, she told me, means I'm in love with the whole human race.

THE LADY was giddily attired in basic black with pearls, in contravention of an edict passed by her friend, Count Marco of San Francisco.

"The Count," breathed Miss Mansfield, "is absolutely subliminal. But we American women have to stand up to him. Else, husbands might get control of things. And then where would we be?"

"I was brought up to believe this is a country where any man is free to do what his wife pleases."

The lady sipped a bit of my armagnac. "My image," she said gravely, "is changing."

An image is an ego you buy from a press agent. Because, as we all know, self-hatred will get you nowhere. The lady explained she doesn't like all that publicity about her elbows. I might point out that they were well covered with basic black.

"I'm 26 now," she said. She wants more mature men. Preferably loaded. Fortunately for us ancients, dirty old men are big in Hollywood this year. The year of Lolita, it's called.

BIG TOO, Miss Mansfield explained, is baseball. "As a status symbol, it's perfectly scrumptious," she said. She pointed out, with great clarity of vision, that baseball was nothing in Hollywood until Walter Winchell and Angel pitcher Bo Belinsky became an item.

"Oh," she continued, "we had fans. Like the late Jeff Chandler, and Danny Kaye and Jack Benny and Jerry Lewis. But these were square-as-a-bear fans. Jeff was buried with a Giant cap on his breast. These chaps KNEW about baseball. Box scores.

The new breed of Hollywood fan doesn't know a fractured thing about baseball and couldn't care less. But they know they can't find their way to the gents' room in the industry unless they can talk about what Tommy Davis did last season. These days you say Maury Wills the way you used to say Darryl Zanuck or Sam Goldwyn."

It's true. You say Maury Wills as a sort of deity which will bring in enough scratch to meet the overdraft at the bank.

Down here, Mr. Walter O'Malley and his Dodgers have done what Mr. Horace Stoneham and his Giants have done in 'Frisco. They have effected a kind of forced growth on two delicate organisms.

They have made the two towns big league, whether they like it or not.

IN SEPTEMBER, Miss Mansfield took her life in hand by entertaining the Giant team at her home after they had been vile to the local heroes. Since, she has been getting threatening calls. "They think I'm bad," she said.

Mike Romanoff's maitre d' came over. He leaned over the lady like a masseur and said, "Mr. O'Malley is at the corner banquet, and would like to have a word with you."

Torrance Maintains Top Position

By GEORGE HERRIN
Herald Correspondent

Hefty Torrance continued its drive toward the Pioneer League football championship with an impressive 33-6 victory over Lennox Friday night on the Tartars' gridiron.

Undefeated during the loop campaign, Torrance has only two contests left. Palos Verdes will furnish the opposition next week in the Tartars' homecoming with Lawndale offering the final hurdle of the league season.

So far, THIS has romped over

Beverly Hills, Aviation, El Segundo, Culver City, and now Lennox.

OPENING THE scoring in the first quarter, the Tartars put seven quick points on the board. A 15-yard aerial from Clyde Taylor to Bill Coffman was good for the ice-breaking tally. Joe Solis booted the conversion.

An interception by Jim Campbell set up the second THS touchdown. Taylor hit Bill Coffman with a 43-yard aerial to move Torrance into position for the TD then hit Pete Rucker for the six points.

ONCE AGAIN Campbell stalled Lennox by intercepting a pass and again Torrance took advantage of the miscue to ring up a touchdown. Two plays after the theft, Mike Cicchini barreled through the middle and across the goal line. Solis again was on target for the conversion.

Taylor's aerial accuracy accounted for another Tartar score when the rangy quarterback found Coffman with a 37-yarder.

ONLY TWO MINUTES remained in the first half when the Tartars wound up their scoring for the evening. Once more Taylor connected for the touchdown through the air. This time, slotback John Ricci snared a 40-yarder for the TD. At halftime, Torrance had posted a 33-0 lead.

Late in the third quarter, Lennox finally tallied on an eight-yard pass. With Torrance coach Irv Kasten substituting freely, Lennox was able to hold the Tartars scoreless the remainder of the contest.

Barber Guides Pedro To Narbonne Victory

Triple-threat San Pedro tailback Ronnie Barber put on his customary one-man show Friday afternoon to pace the Pirates to a smashing 28-6 decision over Narbonne.

For the Gauchos, it was their sixth consecutive defeat, and second straight Marine League loss.

The sensational Barber, who runs, passes, and has even been known to play end, tallied three times to pace the murderous Pedro single-wing.

THE PIRATES scored in

Officiating Stops Knight Gridders

Hometown officiating ruined Bishop Montgomery's bid for its second big upset of the year and its first Camino Real League victory.

The Knights, according to coach George Swade, played one of their finest games of the year Friday, although they dropped a 9-7 nod to St. John Vianney.

Montgomery had a third quarter score called back on a doubtful backfield in motion penalty and generally, Swade felt the officiating was poor.

THE KNIGHT mentor said the penalty "looked like a home town call."

Swade stressed his boys played their top game since Montgomery upset Mount Carmel in the second encounter of the year.

STEVE FOX threw to Pat Green to set up the lone BMHS tally of the game. Fullback Dick Carbajal plunged 15 yards up the middle on a draw play to chalk up the six points.

ST. JOHN VIANNEY, remaining in second place, scored a TD in the second quarter, and following a costly penalty against Montgomery, was able to collect a game-deciding third quarter safety.

IN AN attempt to put together a winning combination, Swade played many juniors during the evening.

The strategy almost paid off with guards Dave Hanson and Mike Garcia and ends Mike Cafarchia and Tom Monohan turning in outstanding performances, according to Swade.

every period but the last when the Gauchos finally got on the scoreboard. Tony Ferrara packed in the Narbonne score in the final quarter of play.

It was no contest as San Pedro, battling to maintain its league title hopes, did so in impressive fashion. The Pirates moved into first place in the circuit as Banning whipped previously unbeaten Gardena by a 39-6 count.

IN THE FIRST loop tilt of the season, San Pedro pasted Banning, but fell last week to the Mohicans.

Friday afternoon the huge Banning defense made a shambles of the vaunted Gardena passing attack.

Policeman To Head Tordondo

Tordondo Little League will be guided through the 1963 season by Torrance police officer Fred Jackman.

Jackman was elected president of the little league's board with Pete Peterson serving as vice president. Treasurer will be Stu Marshall, secretary will be Ruay Carter, and Marion Heath will serve as the players' agent.

Jackman has been a coach, manager, umpire, and board member in previous years. "This is little league," Jackman says, "and the kids must have fun. We should try to teach them baseball. Competition and sportsmanship are important. However, we should not forget that if the kids do not have fun, we are forgetting the purpose of little league."

The Ladies Auxiliary elected Frill Fischer, president; Pat Smith, first vice president; Nancy Ann Nance, second vice president; Evelyn Hamblen, treasurer; Ava Keene, secretary, and Marge Bergeron, hospitality.

TORRANCE HERALD
Sports

8 GREGG PETERSON, Sports Editor NOVEMBER 4, 1962

SEARS
TORRANCE

Most Valuable High School Football Player for the week

GAMES FOR NEXT WEEK
NOVEMBER 9TH

Torrance vs. Palos Verdes
Bishop Montgomery vs. St. Monica's
Redondo vs. Inglewood
West High vs. Boulder City, Nev.
Banning vs. Narbonne
North High vs. Leuzinger
South High vs. Morningside (Sat. Nov. 10)

Vote for your Favorite High School Football Player of the Week. Simply fill out coupon below.

Winner for the year to be selected by the Sportswriters from weekly winners.

Vote for the Most Valuable Player of November 2 Games Listed Below

Torrance vs. Lennox
Redondo vs. Mira Costa
North High vs. South High
Banning vs. Gardena
West vs. Victor Valley (Sat. Nov. 3)
Bishop Montgomery vs. St. Johns Vianney

Name _____
Position Played _____
School _____

Clip, bring or mail coupon to:
Student Shop, Center Section,
at Sears, Torrance.