ADDING IT UP... It all adds up to a lot of fine service. George M. Babbe (right), manager of the firm's Southwest division, decided as he congratulated G. Henry Miller (left) and George R. Rogers on their 40th anniversaries with the Southern California Gas Co.

Two Men Noting 40th Anniversary on Job

G. Henry Miller and George B. Rogers, employees of the Southern California Gas Co. headquartered in Inglewood, turned a coffee break into a period of reminiscence when they discovered that they were both completing their 40th year of service with the utility within the same week.

Miller, who lives in Torrance at 155 Via Los Miradores, and Rogers, of Los Angeles, began their employment with the gas company in August, 1922. To date, their cumulative service with the firm totals 80 years. Assuming both men work to maximum retirement age, their service seniority could total 99 years!

Rogers, a new construction service representative in the firm's sales department, was born in Toledo and received his education in Ohio before coming to California and starting his career with the public utility.

MILLER, district service supervisor in the gas company's Southwest division, is a native Californian, born in Riverside. He attended high schools in Needles and Redondo Beach and studied mechanical engineering in UCLA and University of Southern California Extension classes.

In the "I remember when" department, Rogers worked briefly as a messenger before his transfer and promotion to the sales department. Miller, who has built most of his career in the distribution and customer service department, recalls riding a bicycle about the Beach Cities, reading commercial meters, computing the bills, and collecting payments as part of his day's work in the early 20s.

BOTH EMPLOYEES are active in industry, professional and community organizations. The sales representative is a member of the Professional Engineering Assn., and a past member of the Knights of Pythias. The district service supervisor is a member of the Pacific Coast Gas Assn., the American Gas Assn., and a former member of the Southern California Meter Assn.

Rogers and his wife Elma attend the Wilshire Christian Church. Their hobbies and recreational activities include boating and fishing. Miller is a past director of the Torrance Chamber of Commerce and a former member of the Redondo Lions Club and the Palos Verdes Toastmasters Club. He and Mrs. Miller, who is executive director of the South Bay Council of Girl Scouts, attend the St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church in Redondo Beach.

SELECTING READING... Dr. Samuel R. Ellis, psychology instructor at El Camino College, who will retire after this school year, selects some "outside" reading for his students.

Dr. Ellis to Retire From El Camino Post

Dr. Samuel R. Ellis, psychology professor at El Camino College, will retire at the end of this school year, after 15 years on the El Camino faculty.

He has taught for more than 30 years, has traveled extensively in North and South America, and he has published several articles on education in scholarly magazines during the past three decades.

A giant of a man, and a giant educator, Dr. Ellis' special interest is automotive engineering, and his hobby is traveling.

"Teaching should not be a hard job if the teacher is well-versed in the subject," Dr. Ellis stated. Teaching methods have improved so much over the past 30 years that grading papers and preparing exams takes less time (due to IBM machines). Therefore, the teachers have more time to prepare their lectures," the instructor added.

HE RECOMMENDS that high school students learn as much as possible about their desired major and obtain "a good general background before entering college." A member of the Phi Delta Kappa, honorary educational fraternity, Dr. Ellis taught for six years in Wisconsin high schools; 15 years at Ripon College, Ripon, Wis.; two years in San Paulo, Brazil, and 15 years at El Camino College.

AN AMAZING record has been compiled by Dr. Ellis during his tenure at El Camino College. He has never missed a single lecture or class due to illness.

For his master's degree Dr. Ellis did an evaluation of high school textbooks, and wrote on "Character Building Through Literature" for his doctorate.
