

LIFE'S LIKE THAT

By FRED NEHER

"What I like best about democracy... schools close Election Day!"

DISCOVERS FIRE... John Fritsche averted what could have been a major conflagration Thursday afternoon when he discovered a fire in an unused building at 1321 Post Ave. and quickly summoned the fire department. Fritsche, an employee of the Photo Arts Studio adjacent to the involved structure, said he found the glass broken in a back door fronting the alley. (Herald Photo)

Libraries, Bookstores, Display Best Books For Children's Week

The 44th annual Book Week will be sponsored by the Children's Book Council Nov. 11-17 in the United States and many foreign countries.

This week is dedicated to the concern of interesting children in the best books available and to help them understand reading is not a duty but a delight.

MRS. LILA Held, children's librarian at the Torrance Branch of the Los Angeles County Library, 1345 Post Ave., can help you and your child find the books most interesting to him. Miss Held specialized in children's literature while earning her degree in library science.

Miss Held, along with children's librarians throughout Southern California are planning displays and story hours in observance of Book Week.

"I LIKE BOOKS!!!" is the slogan around which librarians and booksellers will rally to promote children's reading during this annual event. Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, the National Education Assn., the National Federation of Women's Clubs and the National Congress of Parents and Teachers will join the American Library Assn. and the American Bookseller's Assn. in observing it.
