Freshman in High Rating For Speaking

El Camino College student Claudia Wilkens tied for second place in oral interpretation at a practice speech tournament hosted by El Camino recently.

Miss Wilkens, a first-semester freshman, competed against approximately 80 upper division college and university students.

Society's injustice to man was the theme of Miss Wilkens' presentation as she gave Mark am's "Man With a Hoe" and an English ballad.

Steve De France, also an El Camino student, was awarded an excellent rating in upper division competition. He delivered Thomas' "After the Funeral" and "Lament for the Death of a Bullfighter" by Lorca.

In novice division, ECC student Joel Moore won an excellence certificate for his theme on warfare. His presentation included a reading on the Civil War battlefield at Gettysburg.

Thirty-nine colleges and universities competed in the two-day event. Competing in novice, lower and upper division classifications were 148 debate teams, 122 oratory speakers and 166 students in oral interpretations.
