Explorer Ball Dances at Beverly Hilton Thursday

The 23rd annual Los Angeles Council Explorer Ball promises to be the finest in history, according to Explorer chairman Walter Miller of Harbor District and adult advisor Neil Marlett.

The ball will be held tonight at the Beverly Hilton Hotel in Beverly Hills, with music provided by the Elliott Brothers orchestra, which appears each Saturday at Disneyland Date Nite. Friday will be a school holiday.

For the first time, the Explorer Ball will have a patron. The Coca Cola Bottling Co. of Los Angeles is sponsoring the event, and providing soft drinks at no charge. Arrangements with the Coca Cola Co. were made through Andrew Dossett, senior vice president of the company.

DANCING TO the Elliott Brothers music will be from 8 to 11:30 p.m. Intermission will be highlighted by the crowning of the second Explorer Ball Queen, who will be selected from among finalists at the dance.

Each District Explorer Cabinet is eligible to submit the photograph and name of one young lady to enter the contest. All 13 candidates will be introduced at the Explorer Ball, and balloting will take place at the dance. The queen will be announced and crowned prior to the end of the evening.

Girl Scouts Fete Fathers

The Normandale Neighborhood of the Harbor District Girl Scouts held a father-daughter banquet recently. Over 300 guests attended.

Entertainment included Harry Curry (Hobo Harry) a clown and magician; Mrs. Emma Cummings, who teaches Hawaiian dancing and did a hula; and Randy Larking, guitarist.

Decorations were furnished by the troops with Troop 1557 decorating the head table and hall with a Valentine Day theme.

La Vern Davis, Ralph Wareing and Bill Bradshaw headed banquet committees. Mervin Phillips was chairman.
