OFFENSIVE TRICKERY . . . Deceptiveness is a vital part of head coach Bill Parton's unbalanced of formation at West High. Above, a quarterback candidate fakes a handoff under the watchful eyes of his fellow teammates. West finished with a 1-6-1 victory last season and Parton has 16 lettermen returning to open play in the rejuvenated Pioneer League. Parton considers Aviation, Torrance and El Segundo as the top clubs in the circuit with Lawndale and Lennox next. The Warrior mentor cautions, "We could easily surprise."

HARD GOING . . . Warrior tacklers zero in on an unlucky teammate during pre-season practice. Head coach William Parton predicts tackle Marty Kehoe and fullback Bob Vroman may give the Redskins enough lift to improve a 1-6-1 record despite stiffer competition. Kehoe is a rugged 205-pound veteran while Vroman, a junior, may be the best fullback in Torrance by the end of the campaign, according to Parton. Should quarterback Lindy Nuzzo come around, Parton plans to throw more than last year. (Herald Photo)
