At El Camino

Thirteen years of underwater research were related by word and film recently to El Camino College students.

Dr. Andreas B. Rechnitzer, head of the 1960 Trieste Bathyscape Expedition engaged in depth studies near the island of Guam, told his audience that much of the answer to growing population problems lies in the oceans.

Dr. Rechnitzer was awarded the Navy Distinguished Civil-ian Service Award by President Dwight D. Eisenhower and the Geographical Society Gold Medal for scientific accomplishment.

"We have made great strides in underwater research in the past few years, but the real discoveries will be made by the youth of today," Dr. Rechnitzer

"There is a place for scientists and researchers in the field of oceanography and young people are needed and welcome to share the excitement of discovery and the satisfaction gained by successful research," he emphasized,

Great Books Sets Training Sessions Here

A training course for lead-ers of the Great Books discusers of the Great Books discus-sion groups will be given at the Warren Lane Elementary School in Inglewood beginning May 6. The course will be con-ducted by Margaret Metzger, Southwestern area director for the programs

A search for land in the southwest area is now underway by the steering committee of the Garden Valley Assn. for Mentally Retarded Children. The land is needed for a school building.

The needed site wil have to be between one and five acres and zoned for commercial or and zoned for commercial or industrial use in or near Gardena. The land will be used to replace temporary facilities of the association's school.

The public is asked to assist in the search. Information may be given to the association at DAvis 4-3822. Jo sti
