

City Combines Water, Rubbish Statements

Changes in the billing procedure and rules for rubbish collections in the city will become effective Jan. 1, reports Jerome Scharfman, director of finance.

No rate changes have been made, says Scharfman, but residents served by the Torrance Municipal Water Department will be billed every two months for both water and rubbish collection service.

Lectures Today

Russell Lynes, managing editor of Harper's Magazine, author and lecturer will give two public addresses at the University of Southern California today.

Known for his book, "The Tastemaker," published in 1954, Lynes will speak on "The Permanence of American Taste," at 8 p.m. in Hancock Auditorium.

Earlier in the day, the New York magazine editor will speak on "Sense and Nonsense about Mass Culture," when he addresses a student convocation to be held in Bovard Auditorium at 11 a.m. Classes will be canceled so students may attend.

Israel Singer At Lindy House

Hanna Ahroni, Israel's gold-voice, is now on the marquee of the Lindy Opera House, Wilshire and La Brea. The curtain will rise on this international program Saturday evening at 8:30 p.m.

Miss Ahroni, with a remarkable range of four octaves, has appeared in New York, Las Vegas, Paris, London, Mexico City, Toronto, Brussels, Amsterdam, Monte Carlo, San

... Death

She was treated for lacerations and bruises and released.

Driver of the second car was Darlene Louise Erwin, 21, of 2337 W. 246th St.

Officers investigating the crash were forced to leave the drivers in their vehicles until power company workers could cut wires which had been knocked down when the vehicles hit the pole.

Juan, South America, and of course, Israel.
