Gentlemen:

So many times on the radio I hear you asking, "Which kind of Pontiac am I." Let me tell you, I am a GTO Pontiac, and my husband and I have never been so enthused over a car before.

It is beautiful. We bought one of your white ones, with the Bronze interior. It has white sidewall tires, automatic shift (on the wheel as my husband is left handed), bucket seats, a push button radio, remote mirror, padded dash, tinted front window and back-up lights. We really would have been most happy without the white side walls, the push button radio, remote mirror, padded dash, tinted window and back-up lights, although now I'm afraid you couldn't get me to give them up. Mainly, the car is a dream to drive. (Even for me, which swore by Volkswagens for over 8 years).

You see, it is this way. We own two cars—the new GTO Pontiac and a 1960 Volkswagen (which used to be mine). My husband traded his Volkswagen in for the Pontiac. Well, now the Pontiac is mine, and my husband is stuck with my old car. Talk about griping—every morning I hear a few choice words when he goes to drive off to work—in his car—and sees my beautiful Pontiac sitting there.

Just wanted you to know that we are one proud and happy 1964 Pontiac buyer. You have made a wonderful car, and although we are partial to your GTO, I am sure all of your cars must be as wonderful as you made ours.

Sincerely,
(signed) MRS. CAROL KING

P.S. We bought our new car from Scott-Robinson in Torrance, California, and they sure are nice people.
