

'Inquiries Should

Be Pleasant . . .' Dear Ann Landers: I am a widow who has been going with a man who is well-known and highly respected in this community. He has one little habit which I find embarrass-ing. So far I haven't let him know that this bothers me, but if you say to tell him, I will. When the waiter brings the dinner check, he ceremoni-ously takes his bifocals out of ously takes his bifocals out of his pocket, reaches for his pen and starts to add up the bill. Every second seems like an hour. He frequently questions the waiter about charges. For ex-ample he'll say, "I thought the salad came with the din-ner..." or "Didn't the price of the dinner include des-sert?" When he finds a mis-take in the arithmetic he tritake in the arithmetic he triumphantly points it out to the waiter as if he had discov-ered Fermat's last theorem. I feel like crawling under the rug. Shall I tell him how I feel? — KATRINKA Dear Kat: Any person who pays a bill without looking at it is a chump, but inquiries should be pleasant and not sound like the Second Span-ieh Inquisition ish Inquisition. Waiters make mistakes and so do machines. If YOU have been paying your bills with-out checking them, you're not very bright, Lady.

Dear Ann Landers: I am the mother of two teen-age girls. I take violent exception to some of your advice. My daughters read your column regularly and yesterday I had to hide the paper so they wouldn't see it. Why do you persist in telling young girls they are un-der no obligation to tell their finances about past indiscretions? Such advice encourages them to lie. Don't you think it makes both you think it makes more sense to suggest that girls refrain from doing things they may be ashamed of later? If a girl conducts herself in a virtuous manner she will be able to answer any and all questions. So please ston felling young

. 0

So please stop telling young girls that their past is no-body's business. In my opin-ion this is terrible counsel.—

In this is terrible counsel.— IRATE MOTHER Dear Irate: Unless you started reading this column yesterday you should know that I consume tons of news-print telling girls not to do things they will be ashamed of later of later. Such advice is too late, however, for girls who have al-ready done things they are shamed of. I do not tell girls to lie, nor do I suggest that they pose as something they are not. I merely tell them that a real man is willing to accept a girl as she is. He does not demand a purity oath. The man who insists on the names and number of all the players is invariably the one who will use the information later to beat her over the Dear Ann Landers: I wish I had a dollar for every mother-in-law who burned the newspapers which carried your column the other day. I refer to the letter from "Miser-(Continued on Page 14)

ANY RESEMBLANCE? . . . This is one of the questions Connie Eggleston, right, feature writer for Torrance High School "News Torch" asks as she interviews members of the class of 1923, from left, Mmes. Paul Vonderahe, Mrs. Douglas Collins, standing, Frank Higgins and Earl W. Condley, who visited the school on the occasion of their 40th reunion. Miss Bertha Fix, fifth member of the class, who gave the reunion a 100 percent representation, was unable to be present for the picture. (Herald Photo)

Return to Alma Mater After 40 Years

Class of 1923 Takes A Look At Torrance High of Today

of the times.

Time rolled back to 1923-and stood still-last Thursday afternoon when members of the Torrance High graduating class of that year, gathered at the Palms restaurant for lunch. This group, which has seen Torrance develop from a mere village, to a bustling industrial city of more than 100,000 population, enjoyed reminiscing before going over to Torrance High where they were guests of Dr. Carl Ahee. It was here that 40 years of expansion and improvements were pointed out. In this class are Miss Bertha Fix, Mrs. Douglas Collins, John F. Higgins, Earl W. Condley and Mrs. Paul Vonderahe.

Miss Fix, who lives on 231st St., Torrance, began her ca-reer in the First National Bank in Torrance working one year before entering Seaone year before entering Sea-side Hospital in Long Beach to receive her nursing degree. She did post graduate work in psychiatry nursing at Johns Hopkins in Baltimore, returning to work for several years with a South Bay physi-cian and surgeon.

She received her degree in public health nursing at UCLA and became affiliated

With the Los Angles County Health Dept. Under the su-pervision of the Red Cross, she set up a Visiting Nurses Assn, in Petaluma. With the outbreak of war, Miss Fix, with 85 other United States Nurses went to England Nurses, went to England where they set up a base hospital serving there from 1944 to '47. She was discharged with a captain's rating and returned to California to retire Miss Fix is now engaged in rabbit raising and has won 60 trophies, among them the 1961 national sweepstakes. The rabbits are for commer-cial purposes in the United States

Mrs. Douglas Collins (Helen later, for eight years, he man-Tiffany) chose a secretarial aged the first Torrance Theacareer upon graduation and ter, located in the old auditorium building which is now the California Bank. Mr. Higheld a position as secretary for the Torrance High school for the Torrance High school principal for eight years. Her marriage was blessed with five children. She returned to the business world and worked again as secretary at the Carson school for three and a half years. With two teenage daughters still in school and 7 grandchildren Mrs. Collins is kept abreast of the times. the California Bank, Mr. Hig-gins became a joint owner of the Star furniture company and in April of this year be-came sole owner. He has a son and grandson.

and grandson. Inspiring the reunion was the return of Earl W. Cond-ley and his wife, Alice, from an 18-month trailer tour of the United States. They are now living near Westminster. Mr. Condley, married shortly after graduation, was em-(Continued on Page 14) John F. (Frank) Higgins began his career as an account-ant for a Torrance firm and

TORRANCE HERALD

Social World

13

DECEMBER 19, 1963

THE GLITTER OF CHRISTMAS ... These members of the Victor Woman's club are pleasantly engaged in wrapping gift packages for the elderly at the Earlwood Convales-cent Home who will be honored guests at the club's Christmas party Saturday after-noon. Looking over the packages are from left, Mmes. Dale Wood, Art Schmind and Roy Wiseman. Entertainment is also planned.

Victor Woman's Club Project

Gifts, Entertainment Planned For Elderly for the women patients. The Elderly patients at the Earlwood Convalescent Home, 20820 Earl St., Torrance will have a merry Christmas due to the efforts of the Victor Women's Club, which has planned a Christmas party for them on Saturday after-neon. Approximately 50 panoon. Approximately 50 pa-tients will be on hand to re-ceive gifts and refreshments. Under the direction of Mrs.

of toilet articles. Entertainment will be pro-vided by a group of teenage boys and girls who will pre-sent three dances including a square dance number. Re-freshments will be provided by the hospital. by the hospital. At the close of the party, patients and guests will join in the singing of the tradi-tional Christmas carols. Donald Lemasters, club phil-anthropic chairman, members have been making bedjackets

RUTHANNE SLEE ... Accepts Ring

Couple Set Feb. 1 For Nuptial Day

Miss Ruthanne Sice of Long Beach will become the bride of Johnny M. Sampson of Harbor City on Feb. 1, 1964 at the Western Avenue Baptist Church. The announcement of their

The announcement of their aughter's engagement and wedding plans is being made by Mrs. Ruth MacDonald of Whittier and Mr. K. Kent Slee of Long Beach. Parents of the future bride-groom are Mr and Mrs. S.

groom are Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Sampson, 25116 Frampton, Harbor City. Miss Slee, a Compton High School graduate, is a secre-tary with the Ralph M. Par-sons Co., in Los Angeles. Her fiance, a graduate of Narbonne High School and Harbor Junior College, is em-ployed by the City of Los An-calos

Cookers Host Club's Yule Dinner Party

day entertaining. Mr. and Mrs. William Crooker were hosts to Mrs. Crooker's Jus-mere Club of Pasadena, and their buckender there their husbands, at the annual Christmas party at their Miraleste home on Sunday evening. A Christmas cocktail hour was followed by a seated din-ner for the thirty two guests. The table was centered by an arrangements of red poinset-tias flanked by tall red tapers.

To Kanses City

For Holidays Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Boswell, daughter, Pam, and the family daughter, Pam, and the family pet, Hexe, a daschund, left by plane Monday afternoon for Kansas City, Mo., to spend Christmas with Mrs. Boswell's mother and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Pfeifer and her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. John Voss. Also home for the holidays will be Mrs. Boswell's brother, Paul Hud-son, of New York City, for-merly of Torrance. The Bos-wells will return Jan. 4. merly of Torrance. The wells will return Jan. 4.

Amapola. On Monday afternoon of last week, Mrs. Smith served a Christmas luncheon to club members after which bridge was played. Mrs. Laura Fel-ker held high score and Mrs. Smith was second. Club members present were Mmes, Emma Roberts, B. T. Whitney, William Crooker, Ruby Dix, Laura Felker. Mrs. De an Sears was a queet guest. The club will be enter-tained on Jan. 13 by Mrs. Ralph McNeil.

Hostess to

Two Bridge

Amapola.

Club Parties

Mrs. Alma Smith enter-tained two of her bridge clubs at their annual Christ-mas parties at her home, 1614 Amanola Carrying out a blue and purple Christmas theme, Mrs. Smith was hostess to another club Monday afternoon. A gift exchange around a blue Christmas tree, followed the

For this party, guests were Mmes, H. R. Richards, E. L. Snodgrass, S. J. Dunhouse, men patients will receive gaily wrapped gift packages of toilet articles.

Beginning a whirl of holi-

Among the guests from this area were Mr. and Mrs. Rich-ard Williams of Palos Verdes; Miss Pat Crooker and Don Maybee; Miss Beverly Crook-er and David Duthie.

Donna Jean Adams Now Mrs. Donald Hammond

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Adams, 4508 Darien St., Torrance, announce the marriage of their daughter. Donna Jean, to Don-ald Gene Hammond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Hammond, Gardena. The vows were exchanged in a ten o'-clock nuptial ceremony at Na-tivity Catholic Church on Saturday Nov 20

tivity Catholic Church on Saturday, Nov. 30. For her wedding, the bride wore a Mori Lee original of Chantilly lace and tulle, de-tailed with a Sabrina neck-line, long pointed sleeves and a floor-hearth full skirt Her a floor-length full skirt. Her a floor-length rull skirt. Her elbow-length veil fell from a pearl and rhinestone tiara. White orchids and tiny roses formed the bridal bouquet. Miss Mary Simpson, in a full length ruby satin dress carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums in her role as maid of honor. Miss Rose-mary Paumier, also wearing ruby satin, was the brides-maid.

Donald John Adams was best man and Charles F. Hammond served as usher. Rev. William O'Toole offi-ciated as the church organist played the "Ave Maria" and other nuptial music. The 75 wedding guests were entertained at a catered luncheon at the Toresene luncheon at the Torrance YWCA.

The new home has been The new nome has been established in Torrance. The bride is a graduate of West High school and her husband is a Torrance High graduate

MRS. DONALD GENE HAMMOND . . . Recent Bride (Portrait by Seeman) J. C. Warnock, Jr., James Me Millan, R. E. Moffitt and Wil-liam Dekin. Mrs. Snodgrass will enter-tain the club on Jan. 6.

Junior Club's

Holiday Dance Friday Eve

A gala evening is in store for members of the Tor-rance Junior Women's Club on Friday when they stage their annual Christmas dance at the Pen and Quill Hotel, beginning at 9 p.m. Juniors and their husbands will dance to the music of "The Imperials." At midnight, a buffet supper will be served. Chair-men for this festive event are Mmes. Ronald Forestal and Richard Oliver.

CHRISTMAS DINNER-DANCE . . . These members of the Torrance Welcome Wagon club, from left, Mmes. Her Ganske, William Hussey, David Porte and Donald Bowen, seated, are selecting their jewelry to be worn to the club's fifth annual Christmas dinner-dance Saturday evening at the Plush Horse Inn. There will be dancing, entertainment and many door prizes. (Herald Photo)