Enjoyed a "south of the border" treat at The RED ONION the other evening.

Never one to let a steak get away, had my steak and Mexican food, too, by ordering Carne Ortega which is served with rice, beans and tossed green salad. Nestled under a fragrant, "just so" sauce was a steak which could proudly bear the name.

Needless to add, the Senora style Mexican dishes at the Red Onion are repeat customer winners also. Quality ingredients distinguishes superior Mexican food and QUALITY is the keynote of this authentic Hacienda designed restaurant.

Four happy golfers all enjoyed dinner recently in the restaurant at the Dominguez Golf Course and the reason for their smiles was the fact that each one had achieved the golfer's dream, a hole in one.

Attractive golferette Julie Coats of Manhattan Beach scored an ace on the 121 yard No. 1 hole. Others who were celebrating the sinking of their tee shots were Gordon Hicks of Lomita on the 17th hole, Gus Sutherland of Los Angeles on the seventh hole and John Mallard of Wilmington on the 15th hole.

ENTERTAIN HIGHLIGHTS Whether table for two or banquet for a large party, Rene Bouter and Jules Erdely, co-owners of PIGALLE, are planning a unique New Year's Eve experience for all guests.

This intriguing French house, where candles glow on blue and white checked cloths and scenes of Paris color the walls, welcomes new friends and old to ring in 1964. Reservations, please.

If you want to enjoy a change of scenery within a change of scenery try the TIKI-KAI. The dining room follows the island decor of bamboo, while the cocktail lounge upstairs provides a dramatic contrast with dark wood paneled walls. Glowing tropical fish tanks provide the lighting effects.

DECK THE PALMS . . . Each holiday season Hazel Bell of The Palms Restaurant decorates this well known dining establishment. Pictured above are palm trees, hung with glistening ornaments, which are featured in the main dining room. The Crystal Room sings of Christmas this year with white net trees and green ornaments on the walls. A moving Santa, candy canes and elves add to the merriment of the cocktail lounge, and the small banquet room features Yule tidings in silver and pink.

Concert Says 'Thank You' The music department of El Camino College will present Christmas concerts this weekend as a gift of thanks to the community for its support of the college's music program. Mixed voices of three choral groups will perform under the direction of Miss Jane Skinner, music instructor. Dr. Howard Banks, drama instructor, will narrate and Dr. Robert Haage and Hamilton M. Maddaford will provide organ accompaniment. Amanda DeRycke and Marion McGee will be featured as soloist in "Amahl and the Night Visitors." In contrast to the choral music will be the presentation of an instrumental section by the brass ensemble under the direction of Calvin Greer, music instructor.

The programs will be presented at the college Saturday at 8:30 p.m. and Sunday at 2:30 p.m. There will be no admission charge.
