Dear Red: Welcome to the Free World. The advantages of NOT going steady out-weigh by far the advantages. What some teens mistake for social security in reality is so-cial paralysis.

Dear Ann Landers: My bro ther Lanny is 38, a college graduate, and successful in business. He has always been my mother's favorite.

Last year Lanny began to see a woman about 10 years older than himself. She is vivacious, attractive and a good person so far as I know. When Mother forbade him to brin this woman to her home i moved into an apartment. Since that time Mother ha phoned every member of the family and asked that they urge Lanny to stop seeing this woman. Mother makes this the central theme of every conversation and we are all sick of it.

This morning my husband told me that the next time my mother starts in on Lanny he is going to tell her off and walk out. I was distressed over this. Where do my loyalties lie? — LUCINDA

Dear Lucinda: Has Lanny told your mother how he feels? If he hasn't he should and soon.

If she still insists on mak ing this relationship subject A in all her conversations he could then justifiably take that walk. And if you agree that an adult should be allowed to lead his own life, walk with him.

Chi Omega Alumnae Give Toys To School

South Bay Chi Omega Alumnae Assn., carrying out its major philanthropic endeavor, aid to the Garden Valley School for Mentally Retarded Children, last week presented an array of toys to the school. This privately endowed institution has been the alumnae's major charity for the past four years.

To raise funds for their aid to the school, the Chi Omega alums stage a benefit bridge luncheon each spring. Tentative plans for this year's party, which has become one of the outstanding social events of the spring season, are March 14 at the Plush Horse restaurant. Prepara-tions for the event are under-

Other than its philanthro-pic projects, this alumnae group has a schedule of in-teresting programs.

Recent speakers were Mrs. Katy Stephensen, who spoke on "Bonsai" and gave a colorful demontration, and Mrs. Shirley Chilton, who spoke on "Woman's Role in the Financial World." Last week's meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Jason Terry in Palos Verdes. Mrs. James McGhee was co-hostess.

Other activities scheduled for the group were its partici-pation at the Panhellenic luncheon held yesterday at the Plush Horse and a work party to be held at the home of Mrs. John Mohr early in February.

Any interested Chi Omega
Alumna in the area is asked to contact Mrs. Mohr or Mrs. Richard Gazeley.

Our construction program is worth more than a passing glance.

To be specific, in 1964 it's worth a record $419 million—up $7 million from last year. It'll be a big factor in the state's economy. For it will help create thousands of lobs, not only in the telephone industry but In construction and manufacturing, and among all the thousands of suppliers we do business with in hundreds of communities throughout the state.

Actually, this record figure reveals our continued faith in California's economy. Last year, for example, our construction program totalled $412 million. Over $215 million worth of goods and services were purchased from over 4,000 California suppliers. We paid $460 million in wages to telephone people in California and $126 million in state and local taxes.

By continuing our investment in good, growing tele-phone service for our present customers and for new residents and businesses moving into the state, we are also helping build a more prosperous California
