

ECC Wins First Metro Net Title

It's all over but the shouting. The El Camino College tennis team has won the first Metropolitan Conference net championship in the history of the college.

El Camino will face Long Beach and East LA this week. Currently undefeated in conference play, the Warriors trounced San Diego, 7-2 Friday and in the process, passed their biggest obstacle to the title.

The match was much closer than the 7-2 score indicates. Four of the matches went to three sets, with the Tribe winning three of them.

Paul Manahan, Warrior coach, cites the ability to come back as the prime factor in the El Camino win.

"The kids were down in several matches, but came back to win, which is an indication of a champ," Manahan said.

The most remarkable comeback was made by Terry Ehlers and Jaime Collico in first doubles.

San Diego's Mickey Allison and Mike Kohlers had the Warrior tandem down 1-5 in the first set, and seemed on the verge of making a runaway of the match.

Ehlers and Collico, however, suddenly found themselves and came on strong to win six straight games and win the set, 7-5. The El Camino duo then went on to take the second set, 6-4.

In singles play, Ehlers, playing Allison, went three sets before finally pulling out a win. The Mira Costa grad won the first set, 7-1, and barely dropped the second one, 8-10.

He came back in the third set, however, and won, 6-4. Ehlers, according to Manahan, "demoralized Allison."

He drove him back with hard smashes and then dropped the ball just over the net.

The only two losses suffered by the Warriors were by Jim Paul and George Deeb.

BIG JUMP . . . Kevin Sherlock, of El Camino College by way of Serra High, prepares for tomorrow's Metropolitan Conference spike encounter with Los Angeles Valley College. Sherlock has been competing in three to four events for Ray Southstone's outmanned Warriors.

Redondo To Hold Clinic

A youth baseball clinic, conducted by the Seven Up Youth Foundation, will be held Saturday morning at Redondo Union High School.

The clinic, with Seven Up sports director Frank Kelleher in charge, will begin at 9:30 a.m. in Redondo's Seahawk Bowl.

Instructors will include scouts Nels Burbrink, St. Louis Cardinals; Gene Handley, Chicago Cubs; Harry Minor, Milwaukee Braves; and former professional players Fred Stoble, Pres Elkins and Ed Stewart.

ACCORDING TO Kelleher, "The purpose of the clinic is to teach the fundamentals of baseball. The hows of hitting, throwing, fielding, pitching and catching will be discussed."

"When the fundamentals are learned, individual styles will take care of themselves," Kelleher points out.

THE ANNUAL clinic is made possible by the Redondo Youth Baseball Council. "Our Youth Foundation considers it a privilege to work with the youngsters in the Junior Baseball Program," Kelleher says.

Gardena YMCA Will Sponsor Judo Tourney

Judo, Kempo and other weaponless means of combat will be presented at noon Saturday at Gardena High School during the Gardena YMCA Judo Club's anniversary tournament.

Gardena High is located at 182nd Street and Budlong Avenue. Admission is free.

The tournament will note the YMCA club's fourth anniversary and competition will include clubs from throughout Southern California.
