

Boy Scout Council Plans Coliseum Pageant in June

"Land of Uncle Sam," a Cavalcade of America's Heritage, will be presented at 8 p.m. on Saturday, June 13, at the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum, under the leadership of chairman James H. Doolittle. It's the Los Angeles Area Boy Scout Council's big show for 1964, with a cast of 15,000

Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, and Explorers, and Hollywood personalities to narrate the patriotic script.

Tickets will go on sale May 2 and will be sold by Cubs, Scouts and Explorers who will earn "Scout Bucks" for themselves, and large commissions for their units.

For each of the colorful tickets that he sells he will receive one "Scout Buck" which is worth 10 cents toward the purchase of Scout equipment at cooperating Scout distributors.

IN ADDITION, for every book of 10 tickets a boy sells, he will receive the official red, white and blue Uncle Sam neckerchief slide. Any boy would be proud to have this symbol of America on his Scout neckerchief.

In order that units may replenish their treasures for summer camp, outings and necessary equipment, a generous commission structure has been set up which will earn 15 per cent commissions on every ticket sold for the unit.

On top of the 15 per cent, another 10 per cent bonus will be granted for all money turned in 10 days before the big show.

TICKET SALE rallies will be held in districts on May 2 to kickoff "Land of Uncle Sam" ticket sales.

The tickets will sell for $1 each.

The patriotic show will feature seven acts, each opening with a tableaux set on a large, specially built stage. Special effects lighting will dramatize the tableaux which will be followed by live action on the field of the Coliseum. Each act will encompass a period of American history, and several thousand Cubs,

Art Works Displayed At South

Student art work will be on display at the South High School library April 24 through May 15 during the third annual art competition, sponsored by the PTA and the Art Club at South High.

The exhibit of student work will include oils, watercolors, drawings, mixed media, and several fine art pieces. Also on display will be commercial art posters, designs, and illustrations.

A crafts display is planned and will include ceramic pieces, jewelry, mosaic articles and woodcraft items.

Ribbons and plaques will be presented in each division and a perpetual trophy and such awards will be given to the sweepstakes winner. Judges are educators and artists from the area.

Winners will be announced at the Fine Arts Banquet, to be held May 4. Entries will be placed on sale after the judging has been completed.

Roger Wagner Chorale Tours Latin America

The Roger Wagner Chorale of Marymount College will be one of nine American professional music groups to represent this county in the State Department's cultural exchange program this year.

Dr. Wagner, head of the college music department, and 28 members of the chorale are on a 10-week tour of Latin America and the Caribbean area. They will stage concerts in halls, universities and hospitals.

Scouts and Explorers will be needed to portray each act. Gen. James H. Doolittle, general chairman of the "Land of Uncle Sam," said that a special aerial display and introduction of space heroes will be a high point of the show.

A CHOIR, band and organist will back up each act with appropriate music.

A huge, lighted replica of our nation's Capitol in Washington, D. C., will be one of many special features of the show.

One of the largest American flags ever unfurled will actually fill the floor of the Coliseum during the finale of "Land of Uncle Sam."

COUNT MARCO SAYS

Then Suddenly The Bonds Slip

I can't imagine why I upset you women. Is it because I tell the truth or because you can't stand the truth, as I tell it?

You women over 40 (or over married) will be more appropriate can't stand the truth when it comes to your marriage.

How many of you write me vehemently that you've been married over 20 years, and everything in your world is quite happy without my interference, as you prefer to call my advice?

The next time you over-marrieds pick up a newspaper, read the divorce statistics carefully. Or look at your friends who are losing their husbands. Analyze those breakups carefully, and note how many couples have been married what constitutes a long, long time. Even money doesn't bind you together. Thus, it can happen to you. As it did to this woman who writes me for advice.

"My husband and I have been married 23 years. We have had a good, happy marriage. Three wonderful sons and a lovely home. I know he has been true to me.

"Then, three months ago, I suddenly knew he was being unfaithful. I cannot figure out how those men you speak of who have mistresses do so without their wives knowing.

"For 20 years my husband has been well-known and an active member of our community. I could set my watch by the time he got home from work each day. Then three or four times he came home between 10 and midnight, and very drunk.

"I accused him of seeing a woman, and at first he denied it. Finally he admitted he had seen this woman two times, but said he never would again, as she was too serious and wanted to come see me about divorcing him. I couldn't imagine anyone wanting me to divorce him after just seeing him twice.

"I didn't know a person could be hurt so badly and still go on living. I think it is all over. He has done everything in his power to show me how much he loves me. Strangely enough, I know he does.

"And, yet, have you stopped to think what it has done to me? I have always been a shy, timid person with too much pride, easily hurt, and I feel I am homely. Now I have an inferiority complex that is overpowering.

"My question is how in the world does a woman (I was 40 yesterday) make herself exciting for her husband. What you said on your television show made my hair stand on end. Even if you have been married 23 years you cannot be sure your husband will be faithful forever."

"I found that out. My husband knows my mind, character and body almost as well as his own. After all these years, what can I do to make him feel more passionate, more interested in me?

"Every time I looked at him I could picture what he had done. Either we must separate or we must try and forget. What must a woman do when her husband takes a short fling instead of a mistress?

—BEWILDERED—

Because this is not an isolated problem but a universal one, I'll leave it up to you who have solved that problem or who might have to face it yourself.

What is your advice to any woman who finds herself in such a predicament? What should she do? Leave him, stick, take a lover, make his life miserable, or what? Start thinking girls. What should she do?

What's doing?

Maybe you read recently about that Coast Guard helicopter rescuing eleven people from the floundering Hattie D off Cape Mendocino. Well, if it hadn't been for a ship-to-shore telephone operator, the lucky eleven and the Coast Guard might not have gotten together. Seems that the stricken ship didn't use the regular emergency channel, and Operator Mrs. Evelyn Lubahn of Oakland picked up its "May Day" distress call over the Eureka Coastal Harbor radio-telephone channel. She promptly alerted the Coast Guard, who made the dramatic scoop from the sea. Just another case of a telephone operator giving help when it's needed.

Like good music with your TV? Then look in on the award-winning Bell Telephone Hour every other Tuesday at 10:00 p.m. on the NBC network.

"Money at work means men at work" is the slogan of Invest-in-America Week, April 26 to May 2. Investing in America may seem like a big order. But actually it's a matter of looking at it the way the Invest-in-America Council does. They say: "Our American system of free enterprise encourages saving and investment that helps to create new plants and jobs. As a result the average American has been able to produce more and live better."

In the long run, an extension phone in your kitchen, bedroom or work area—means shorter walks.

Next time you glance at your telephone book, try to visualize it multiplied 100-million times. Then translate what you see into 145,000 tons of paper. Now you have a picture of what goes into the Bell System's directory production job each year.

But the most important thing that goes into a telephone book is—accuracy. Please verify your directory listings. If you have any questions, call your Torrance Business Office today.
