El Camino Journalists Win Top State Awards

Six El Camino College journalism students who were declared winners in the Journalism Assn. of Junior Colleges annual convention will be honored May 29 at an Associated Students Awards Banquet.

The students, winners in on-the-spot and advance writing contests, received their awards at the conclusion of the two-day meeting on March 20 and 21 in Pacific Grove.

Dick Davin of Torrance, a member of the college press bureau and the Warrior Life staffs, won top honors in the state in the on-the-spot feature writing contest.

BILL RUSTRUM of Torrance placed third in the news writing contest. Rustrum is a member of the press bureau and The Warhoop staffs and a first year journalism student at ECC. Rustrum is a North High graduate.

El Camino also placed with three winners in the advance writing contest, based on competition between top newspaper stories and photographs carried in the student newspapers of the 42 colleges which participated in the convention.

MIKE MULLIN, also a Torrance resident, won third place in the editorial-feature columns category, while Danny Bearden of Inglewood gained honorable mention in news photography. Mullin, a graduate of North High, is a columnist for The Warhoop.

Ray Deurloo of Torrance won a second place award in feature photography. Deurloo has previously won awards in the annual contests.

Overall, El Camino finished third in the advance editorial
