VA Pension Requirements Now Revised

Widows and orphans of World War II and Korean Conflict veterans who previously did not meet requirements for VA pensions may now be eligible under a change in Congressional legislation affecting death pensions.

Torrance area service officer Loren Heft said it is no longer necessary for the deceased veteran to have had a service-connected disability at the time of his death in order for the widow and children to be entitled to pensions.

The pensions range from $25 to $60 monthly for widows. For each child, $15 a month is added. The pension for an orphan is $35 monthly. This benefit is payable to a veteran's child even though the widow is not entitled to the pension because she remarried or her income or net worth exceeds the prescribed limits.

INCOME FROM other sources must not exceed $1,800 yearly for a widow, and $3,000 annually for a widow with a child or children. The income limit for orphans is $1,800 yearly, exclusive of earned income.

The pension is paid if the deceased veteran was discharged under conditions other than dishonorable and had at least 90 days of service unless discharged sooner for a service-connected disability.
