By Mike Connolly

Dear Mike: Why haven't you printed any news about Kim Novak lately? She's so great... PLEASE print something, even if you have to make it up!—Jerry Weinstein, Maplewood, N.J.

Dear Jerry: I may have to do just that. Kim barred me from the set of the movie she is making, "Kiss Me, Stupid," after I ran an item about Rodrick Mann's five-day visit with her recently. Se doesn't want her private life publicized, unless it's publicity about her hobbies. You're right, she's great. But she's sensitive too so we'll have to wait until she gets over her pouting spell.

Dear Mike: Would you please explain why, in one place, we read about Mr. and Mrs. William Windom—and then, three or four weeks later, we read in the same magazine that Windom and his "Farmer's Daughter" co-star, Inger Stevens, are going steady?—Mary Perkins, Napa, Calif.

Dear Mary: Bad reporting. He's happily married to Barbara Goetz, producer Bill Goetz's daughter.

Dear Mike: I'm indignant. I dearly love Dick Van Dyke but I don't think it's fair to put a comedian in the same category as David Janssen or any other dramatic actor. I'm referring, of course, to this year's Emmy Awards. There should be separate awards for each. The Emmys and Oscars should be chosen by the TV viewers and the moviegoers. A hundred million fans can't be wrong!—Mrs. Lorraine Rhoades, Peoria, Ill.

Dear Mrs. Rhoades: I don't agree. Would you be able to tell if a particular show is well edited or not? Neither would I. But another film editor would. And right there you have the reason why those Emmys and Oscars are so highly coveted by the professionals: they are not phony like so many of those Film Festival awards—they are awarded by other professionals.

Dear Sir, You Cur: Why don't you break down and admit that Frank Sinatra's "near drowning" in Hawaii was just a publicity stunt for his new movie, "None But the Brave"? The "brave," of course, refers to actor Brad Dexter, who "rescued" Sinatra. — Jane Lombard, Richmond, Calif.

Dear Jane: Down, girl. Frank still turns green when you so much as mention one of those movies they call "New Wave!"

Dear Mr. C.: Drat it, J just bought tickets for "Fade Out—Fade In" on Broadway and now I learned that Tina Louise won't be in it. And she is the main reason I wanted to see it. Wa'ppen to the swingin' sexpot?—Rick O'Connor, Rowayton, Conn.

Dear Rick: Her producer let her out of it so she can star in a new TV series, "Gilligan's Island," out here. Don't fret, you'll be seeing plenty of Tina. She plays a shipwrecked movie queen in the series—who leaves most of her clothes aboardship.

Dear Mike: Whatever happened to Linda Sterling, who used to star in those "Purple Monster" and "Zorro's Black Whip" serials at Republic way back in the late '30s and early '40s?—Irving Lusk, Euclid, Ohio.

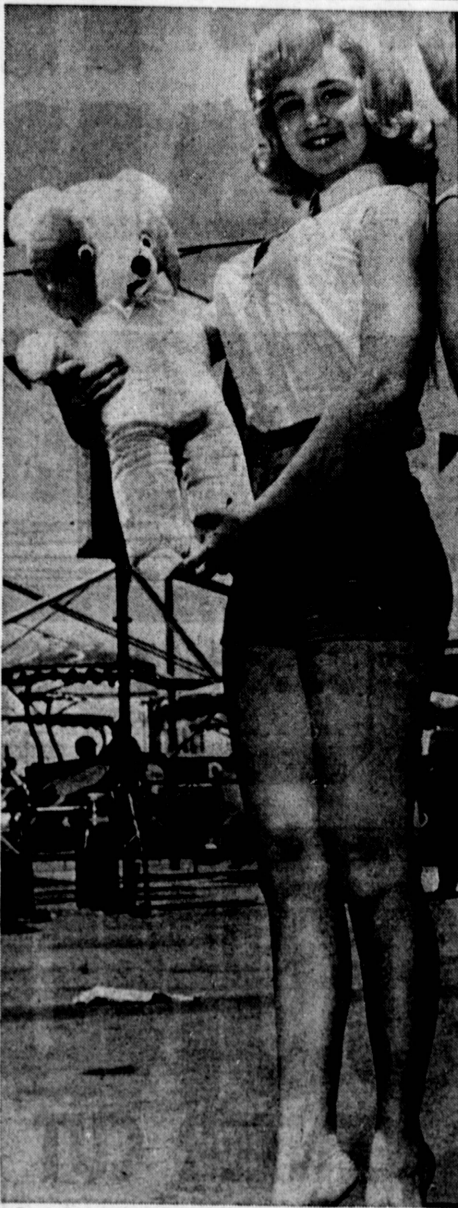

Dear Irving: She's just now graduating from UCLA with a Phi Beta Kappa key on her gown and a Master's degree on her future book. Linda's on in years but says it's never too late to get an education.

Dear Sir: Is it true Shirley Booth won't be back on the "Hazel" series next season because she's ailing?—Winifred Keltman, St. Joseph, Mo.

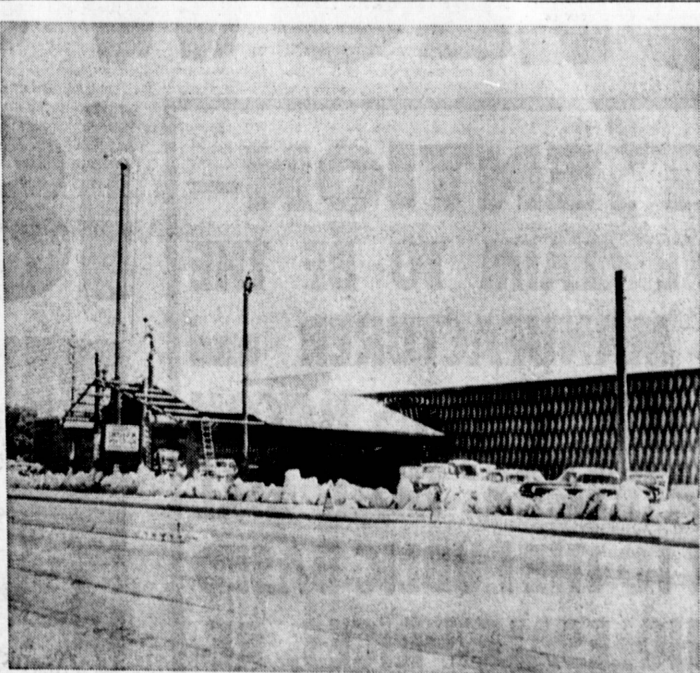

Dear Winifred: That story must have gotten out because Shirley's been seeing her doctor about losing weight. She'll be back, all right, but there'll be less of her... she has lost 20 pounds and has 10 more to go.

Dear Mike: I can't stand those photos of the usually suave Cary Grant with the scraggly beard he's wearing for his new movie. Will you please tell him to STOP, DE-SIST—and CEASE disillusioning us!—Mary Ann Livadary, Evanston, Ill.

Dear Mary Ann: Cary's part calls for it at the start of the picture but he turns up suave as ever at the end. Incidentally, the 24 crew members on "Father Goose" are all growing beards just like his, so that he won't be lonesome in the hirsute department. And he has promised to buy the one with the shaggiest beard an engraved, gold-plated gobbo.

SEEKS PRESS TITLE... Roxanne Albee, pert 17-year-old Gardena miss, is a finalist in Miss Press Day beauty contest Saturday in Long Beach Nu-Pike Plunge patio. Leading editors and legislators will judge contest when the ocean front amusement park hosts Southland press. Miss Albee's hobbies include horseback riding, tennis, and snow skiing. She aspires to be an actress and model.

TRIBAL POW WOW... Smith Bros. Indian Village Restaurant, initial part of a three-phase $1 million dining and commercial complex, will "make the peace" with all Southwest natives June 22 when the colorful doors open for "an adventure in dining for the entire tribe." Miss Evelyn Smith, president of Indian Village and founder of the Fish Shanty restaurants said, "we will welcome and cater to children." Located at 4020 Pacific Coast Hwy., the Indian-red eucalyptus pole construction is announced by a feathered bonnet with 79 feathers representing principal tribes.

Awards for Recreation Backing Due

National Recreational Association awards will be presented to Torrance winners during the eighth annual National Recreation Recognition Awards Dinner Wednesday, June 24.

POPULAR HOST... Lenny Reuben, vice-president of the Pen & Quill and solicitous overseer of its patrons' comfort, greets guests at the celebrated restaurant, "where world travelers meet," in Manhattan Beach. Dining establishment adjoins Pen & Quill Hotel.

The dinner will be held at the Terrace Room of Jump 'N Jack Restaurant, with the social hours beginning at 7 p.m.

Mrs. Naomi McVey, chairman of the sponsoring Torrance Parks and Recreation Commission, said awards will be presented to an individual and a group for outstanding contributions to recreation in the city during 1963.

Rodeo Funds Go to Youth

Funds for a youth building will be raised by the Kiwanis Charity Rodeo, set for 8 p.m., Saturday, June 27, at the Memorial Coliseum.

Ross T. Haight of 3856 Sepulveda in Torrance, ticket chairman of the Southwest Torrance Kiwanis Club, said a portion of ticket sales will go to benefit the club's sponsored charities which include the youth building.
