Moras-Wilhite Nuptials Read at St. Catherine's

Miss Murielle (Mitzy) Lucille Moras, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Moras, 3553 W. 168th St., Torrance, walked down the aisle of the St. Catherine Laboure Catholic church, on the arm of her father, at 11 o'clock on Saturday May 23, to plight her marriage vows with Michael Bernard Wilhite, Mr. and Mrs. Don E. Wilhite, 3729 W. 171st, are parents of the bridegroom. The bouquet taffeta wedding gown was fashioned with a long fitted torso enhanced with Venise applique around the scoop neckline and elbow-length sleeves. The sheath skirt was adorned with a band of lace, while the bouffant overskirt was bordered in lace which flowed into a sweep train. Her illusion veil cascaded from a tiara of crystals and pearls and the bride carried a bouquet of white orchids encircled by white roses, carnations and lilies-of-the-valley.

Mrs. Thomas K. Russell, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Vickie LaVonne Kestle, Donna Clark and Nancy Crabtree. They wore pink organza sheath dresses with three-tiered bouffant skirts, with two roses at the waistline. Roses also enhanced the pink poof veil headpieces and their bouquets were of pink roses.

Gerald Wilhite was best man and ushers were Eric

Valerie Truscott Weds Ronald Smith on June 13

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church in Redondo was the scene of an afternoon wedding ceremony on Saturday, June 13, when Miss Valerie Jean Truscott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl R. Truscott, 25042 Feijoa Ave., Lomita became the bride of Ronald Clifton Smith. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Smith, 27025 Woodbrook Rd., Palos Verdes. The Rev. Paul C. Cox stood before a flower-banked altar to officiate at the candle-light ceremony.

Mr. Truscott escorted his daughter to the altar. She wore a gown of white silk organza and lace. It was fashioned with a Chantilly lace midriff and insets of the lace enhanced the chapel train of the gown. Her lace-edged illusion veil was secured by a cluster of lily buds studded with seed pearls. She carried a cascade of miniature white carnations.

Miss Nadine Truscott was her sister's honor attendant and bridesmaids were Misses Collette Smith, Joyce Truscott and Mary Truscott. All wore floor-length gowns of organza in shades of turquoise, Nile green, violet, poudre blue. Their bouquets were daisies in the shades of their gowns, and feathered chrysanthemums. Kimberly Mazzola, in lilac nylon organza, was flower girl.

Keith Comrie stood as best man and ushers were Steven Smith, William Spader and William Malone.

Mrs. E. Tully played the wedding marches and accompanied Mrs. Greta Evan-son, soloist. Following the marriage, a reception was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Redondo for the 350 guests. Mrs. William Grosecey of San Pedro was in charge of the bride's book.

The honeymoon was spent in Carmel and San Francisco. The new address is 25941 Narbonne Ave., Lomita. The bride, a 1960 graduate of Narbonne High, is a senior at State College in Long Beach.

Her husband, a graduate of Morningside High, will be graduated this month from Long Beach State with a BS degree in business administration.

Joyce Keeler, Formerly Of Torrance, Marries

Miss Joyce Hope Keeler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent H. Keeler, 6629 Sunnyslope, Van Nuys, formerly of Torrance, became the bride of Robert Charles Zavack of Los Angeles in an afternoon ceremony on May 31 at the Wee Kirk o' the Heather Chapel at Forest Lawn, Glendale. Mrs. Alice Zavack of Los Angeles is the mother of the bridegroom.

The bride, who approached the altar on the arm of her father, wore a traditional gown of silk organza over bridal satin. Lace appliques enhanced the neckline of the gown and were used down each side of the long overskirt which fell into an intermission train. A headpiece of orange blossoms and tulle held her shoulder-length veil. White camellias and gladioli formed the bridal bouquet.

Bridal attendants were Miss Sharon Sill, honor attendant, Joan Portlock and Maria Redhead, Torrance, and Virginia Meyer, Long

YOUR PROBLEMS
by Ann Landers

Tell the School Authorities . . .

Dear Ann Landers: Your reply to "Daughter of Sorrow" was good. She was the girl who for four years was beaten unmercifully by her mother. Through therapy the girl was able to forgive her mother instead of spending her life filled with hatred and bitterness.

Psychiatry isn't the only answer, Ann. My story was similar to hers—only worse.

I am 19 now, and the first nine years of my life were hell. Dad was the town drunk. I'm sure he turned to the bottle because it was the only way he could escape from mother's screaming and temper tantrums. My sisters and I lived in constant fear of beatings, filthy language and humiliation before friends.

When I was in the 4th grade I passed out in school. For 20 minutes I could not be revived. The principal and school nurse took off my blouse. They found welts and bruises all over my back. When they questioned me I told them everything.

The next day the police and welfare authorities investigated our home life. My sisters and I lived in a foster home and my father, with the help of a clergyman and AA, straightened out. Mother was put in a mental institution where she died two years ago.

If children who are beaten by their parents would tell the school authorities they might not need psychiatric care later. Will you tell them, please?—SPARED

Dear Spared: I DO tell them. Perhaps you are not aware that the advice which
