 around" should not take on a ready-made family.
 True, some fathers (and mothers as well) say to themselves when they leave their little brood after a trying day, "I'm glad to be away from there," but fundamentally they love their children and wouldn't trade them for all the tea in Ceylon, but this is not the case with you, Bub.

Dear Ann Landers: My mother raised me to believe I was beautiful, brilliant and that I should make a spectacular marriage. Somehow I changed signals on her and married the only man I ever loved. Of course he was the man she hated most.

We did not have the grand marriage mother had dreamed of because Dick's parents were not elegant enough and they might pick up the wrong fork at the wedding dinner. We were married in the minister's study and mother wept all through the service. After the ceremony she told me I had broken her heart by making such a poor marriage and that she didn't want to see us again. Dick and I moved out of town.

That was two years ago. Last night my aunt called to tell me mother is not well. I asked if mother had asked her to call. She replied, "no."

Dick is urging me to go home. Should I? — THE DISAPPOINTMENT

Dear Friend: Yes, you should go home. And soon.

To solve some of the frustrations, disappointments and disillusionments of married life, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "What to Expect From Marriage," enclosing with your request 20¢ in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

MRS. R. E. ARCHAMBAULT
 ... June Bride (Portrait by Seeman)

Andreucci-Archambault Vows Read at Nativity

At high noon on Saturday, June 13, 300 relatives and friends gathered at the Nativity Catholic Church to attend the wedding of Miss Dorothy B. Andreucci, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Andreucci, 1011 Cranbrook, and Raymond E. Archambault of Redondo. Mrs. Emelia Archambault of Redondo is the mother of the bridegroom.
 Rev. William O'Toole officiated at the marriage as Miss Kathy Jessome, organist, played the nuptial music and accompanied Mrs. Jean Cutcher, soloist.
 Mr. Andreucci escorted his daughter to the altar. She wore a gown of white silk organza over taffeta, fashioned with a fitted bodice with three-quarter sleeves. Lace appliques decorated the bodice and the full skirt, which fell into a chapel train. Her short illusion veil was held by a seed pearl crown and she carried white orchids and a white prayerbook.

 Miss Lucy Solemendo was the maid of honor and bridesmaids were Misses Emma Ricci and Jane Repetty. Their street-length gowns were of blue organza over taffeta. Miss Solemendo carried a nosegay of blue carnations on yellow net and the other bouquets were of yellow carnations.
 George Archambault stood as best man and ushers were Bill Bugeia and Pete Bellucci.
 Miss Dora Rodriguez was in charge of the bride's book.
 After a honeymoon in Santa Barbara, Carmel and Las Vegas, the newlyweds will be at home at 130 S. Prospect Ave., Redondo.

Mustang Hardtop

Some people just didn't realize how much Ford's changed. Then, they came in to see Mustang—and took their first good look around a Ford showroom. They saw the hottest line of cars in America... the "Car of the Year" Award winners... the best-built Fords ever. They saw cars so smartly styled, so easy to handle, so good to drive, that they made this the best sales year in Ford Division history even before the Mustang came out. They saw America's leading performance car—the Super Torque Ford (hardtop sales up 54%). They saw America's most famous personal luxury car—Thunderbird—with sales up 60% over last year's record. They found out why Falcon almost outsells Chevy II and Valiant combined. And why Fairlane is a pace-setter in its own field. One look can make you fall in love with any one of Ford's 46 models. A test drive can make you a Ford man forever.
