... Ann Landers ...

(Continued From Page 9) cers from all this. He feels guilty because brothers are supposed to love each other. Legally he can throw them both out but he is afraid it might harm the family relationships. — SPLITTING HEAD

Dear Head: The family relationships seem pretty shaky right now. What's to harm?

I hope your husband will buy Manny's 25 per cent back even if he has to pay a lot more than he thinks he should.

Don't feel guilty. Relatives who feed from a common trough frequently have hostile feelings toward one another although they present a beautiful picture of solidarity to outsiders. (If the boys get along well, their wives don't—etc.) Of course there are exceptions, but these are as rare as sand fleas in Siberia.

Ann, Honey: I read your column every day and I hope you won't take seriously that letter from "Sugar and Spice." He was the old meanie who criticized you for calling your readers "Buster," "Butter-Cup," "Petunia," "Lambie Pie" and a few other cutesy wootsy names.

I am at least twice your age, Doll, and as far as I am concerned, your column is refreshingly down-to-earth. Please don't ever change. You can call me "Buddy Boy" anytime you want to and I hope it is real soon.— LOUISVILLE SALT AND PEPPER

Dear Louisville: Thanks for those kind words, Buddy Boy. See—you didn't have to wait long.

Liquor can ruin your mind, your body and your life. To learn the sooty-traps of teen-age drinking, write for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Teen-Age Drinking" enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. (1964, Publishers Newspaper Syndicate)
