

DEL AMO FETE . . . A "Fantasy Circus" will be presented three times daily tomorrow, Friday, and Saturday during the "Mid-Summer Jamboree" at Del Amo Center. The "people-size" figures of fantasy are featured in singing and dancing routines described as "an illusion of voices."

...Let's Go

By LARRY MACARAY

The time is coming—and at a rate of speed that is overwhelming—when we are going to have to change a few of our ancient concepts of immorality. One group thinks that it's immoral to tax one man in order to help another. Another group feels that it's immoral to deny any one the rights that other people enjoy in this country. Still another group or I should say groups—feel that it is immoral for an artist to portray a woman unclothed.

It is the latter group or groups that I have reference to when I hear reports of action by irate citizens groups or ill-informed policemen who set themselves up as judges of the public's morals.

CORNER EVERTS of Torrance was a classmate of mine at Long Beach State College, as I mentioned a few weeks ago in this column. Prior to his current exhibition on La Cienega Boulevard, I had seen a very appealing still-life of his from the permanent collection of the Long Beach Museum of Art.

As you must have read in the Metropolitan papers, the Los Angeles Police Department ordered his exhibition changed. I don't really know the inside story whether they ordered it closed or just a few of the works withdrawn.

Reservists In Uniform For Details

Three Torrance Army reservists are now at Camp Roberts, Calif., for two weeks of active duty with the 736th Truck Transportation Co.

The reservists, PFC Roland A. Montney Jr., PFC Rudolph D. Muniz, and PFC John C. Benson Jr., are due to return to Torrance at the end of the training session July 12.

The 736th Truck Transportation Co. is providing transportation for the 104th Training Division from Washington.

Montney, of 3774 Redondo Beach Blvd., is a maintenance mechanic with the company. He attended El Camino College is employed by the Signal Oil and Gas Co. when he is not on active duty.

Muniz, a truck driver, resides at 1110 Milton St. He is employed by the Factory Furniture Manufacturing.

Benson, also a truck driver for the company, is employed by Allen Industries Inc., and resides at 20812 Denker Ave.

because they "outraged public decency." I personally did not have time to get up to La Cienega while the show was on, so I cannot "judge" as to the "immoral" or "pornographic" content of the material involved. The context of the exhibition and the reasons for the particular subject matter content should most certainly put it out of the realm of usual police department involvement with immorality.

DOUG MacFADDEN is another classmate of mine who had some of his paintings publicly criticized for their "immoral" content. Of all people to have this happen to—Doug is one of the best human beings you can ever hope to meet.

One of his paintings is also in the permanent collection of the Long Beach Museum of Art—if I remember correctly—it was titled "A Rose to my Love." Some years ago, when it was being displayed at the Museum, some "public spirited" people complained that it was objectionable to see.

This particular painting—I did happen to see and found absolutely nothing objectionable—by any stretch of the imagination. Of course, I have been Art oriented and have been to, and have seen most of the major museums in the world. Some of the great paintings by such names as Michelangelo, Da Vinci, Rubens, Goya, and Brueghal would probably shock this same type of person I've been mentioning.

CENSORSHIP is always a controversial matter—whether it's a speech, a book or a painting involved. Who will be the censors, and who will censor the censors?

I can't finish this column without relating a personal form of censorship that happened to me recently. Two or three weeks ago I mentioned that I was having a one-man showing of my collages (my proofreader changed it to colleges!) at the Bowers Museum in Santa Ana.

A large collage titled "Renaissance Man" had a small photograph of a painting I had done earlier this year of a seated nude—absolutely nothing offensive in the least—well, the hilarious part of this story is that some one objected to the photo on the collage and ripped it off—a real self-appointed censor.
