Jaycee Carries on Safety Plan

This Saturday will be the second phase of the Junior Chamber of Commerce SAFETY FOR SEPTEMBER campaign. All Jaycee members are urged to meet at 9:00 a.m. in the Parkway across from the Bank of America.

Tuesday night, September 5, will long be remembered as the night Torrance was invaded by a group of men wearing "hard hats" and armed to the teeth with paint brushes and buckets of paint. Carried with them was the will to drive the enemy "Death and Destruction" from our fair domain.

Results of the battle are yet to come. Fair warning has been given all citizens in the form of signs "Look and Live" and "Don't Jaywalk" found on the sidewalks and alleys.

Jaycee members have entered this campaign wholeheartedly. Al Dube and Joe Helphand became so engrossed in their work they ended the evening painting each other.

Bob Almond, Jim Moorehead were found preaching safety to each other.

Dwight Eubank, safety chairman has done a fine job keeping the members moving.

"We are all ready to carry the ball throughout this campaign and all campaigns to come," announced the Jaycee members.

Bus Curtailment

saved, when Mayor Bob Haggard split with his friends, Councilmen Willys Blount and Harvey Spelman, but the mayor explained that the city could not service out of town areas at a loss when local areas are going without buses.

It was pointed out this week that the buses are run "for the convenience of the people of Torrance"—not of Harbor City and Lomita—and that Torrance people want to be able to reach those communities. If Harbor City and Lomita folk can benefit by the lines, that is so much the better.

The campaign is not over, it was indicated as indignation at the cancellation of the Harbor City service spread.

Here are the local lines of the Torrance buses, with approximate times of departure from Torrance given:
