Portuguese Bend is Scene of Filming

Ida Lupino, actress turned producer-director, and a large crew from R.K.O. studios began work this week on outdoor scenes for Miss Lupino's latest motion picture "Indifference."

The Palos Verdes peninsula coastline around Long Point was being used as the background for the film which is based upon the story of William E. Cook, young murderer who hitch-hiked with and killed an entire family in Oklahoma last year. Cook was the object of an international search in California, Arizona and Mexico after the Arizona slaying.

The Long Point bluffs and coast will simulate the Mexican coast where Cook hid out just prior to his capture.

The film, which Miss Lupino is producing for R.K.O., will star Edmund O'Brien.

"Indifference" is the fourth motion picture shot in the Portuguese Bend area this year.

Vacationer Reports Lake Elsinore Full

Good news for vacation planners is the information that Lake Elsinore is full to the brim, and that lovely vacation spot is the greenest it has been in a number of summers.

Mrs. R. Carol Brown, of Crenshaw Blvd. reported this when she returned recently from a four-day visit to the area.

Mrs. Brown tells us the weather down there is simply wonderful, no smog or fog, but lots of sunshine and breezes and great swimming and water sports.

While visiting her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Sundberg, and their family, Mr. and Mrs. John Burke and their children, Dennis and Gayle, in Lakeland Village, Elsinore, she saw the races and water-skiing stunts, and says that large crowds of local and out-of-town guests all expressed their joy at again seeing the thrills and excitement of Lake Elsinore.
