In plain language:

Vote up or shut up...

Honestly, don't you agree that anyone who doesn't vote shouldn't open up his lips too much about how the country will be run during the next four years?

Big day coming! Election Day! November 4.

Miss it and you've missed the freeest show on earth: the people of the United States voting how they want freedom to operate for another quartette of years.

Brother and sister, doesn't it run the thrills and chills up and down your spine to figure you're one of the folks who can dictate, just by private crosses on paper, whom you want to represent you?
