

Sales Course Still Open at Camino

Classes are still open to any resident of the El Camino College district who might wish to take a special Christmas Salesman Training course, William H. Harless, director of instruction, said today.

"Although class meetings have begun," Dr. Harless said, "Mr. Martin, instructor of the course, has agreed to admit more persons into his classes."

This training, Dr. Harless explained, is carried out in cooperation with several merchants of this area.

Colored Slides Shown at Harbor City P-TA Meet

The auditorium was decorated in the Thanksgiving motif for the regular meeting of the Harbor City Elementary School P-TA, which was held Nov. 15. Mrs. Ray Groover, president, presided, and Mrs. Glenn Deatherage welcomed the many members and guests attending. Mrs. Richard Seden led the flag salute.

Mrs. Carl Gregory, program chairman, presented Miss Eunice Bobo's B5-A5 class who sang several songs. Harold Ball introduced the speaker of the evening, Bert Durst. A veteran of the Marine Corps, Mr. Durst received his Bachelor's degree from the University of South Dakota. He just returned from Germany, having spent a year over there as a school teacher for the children of service personnel stationed there. He showed colored slides of the lives of the German folks, their many parades and the school buildings and houses.

Winston Scott, principal, announced that the school children are raising 35 chickens to have ready for the A6 graduating class dinner on Jan. 23, 1953. The chickens are gaining an ounce a day, so looks like the graduating class will have a fried chicken

186th Street P-TA Plans Yule Treats

At the recent meeting of the 186th Street P-TA, plans were discussed for the Christmas treats.

The following chairmen were ratified: Mesdames Clifford Taylor, radio and TV; Frank Nelson, safety; Floyd Beech, magazine; Herman Eisenbliss, youth services.

After the business meeting, refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mesdames Oliver Lang, Pat Zarnich, G. Culp, and B. Su-
