mally denied the charges in letters sent to City Manager George Stevens.

All Inspections Made

Dresser claims that every one of the required four inspections were made by him or one of his representatives. If inspection records were incomplete in some instances, this was due to circumstances beyond his control, Dresser stated.

He categorically denied that he ever approved construction which was contrary to the plans and specifications submitted

"except in minor instances as at the time appeared reasonable and not in violation of the code."

Further denial was made of charges that he authorized alteration of job permit cards or that he overruled a subordinate's decision to halt work in a tract before building violations there were corrected.

While admitting that he prepared plans for residential construction in Torrance and in some cases received compensation, Dresser denies that he was working for such compensation on city time. He did not know any reason why such plans should not then be approved by him, she letter stated.

In a separate letter, Smith denied failing to make any of the required four inspections. Where no inspection record is available, Smith claimed, the omission could be attributed to a clerical error, lack of time, or inadequate facilities at the time.

Smith denied ever altering job permit cards or permitting workmanship in violation of the building code.

THE EL NIDO P-TA is trying to procure health opportunities for the children in the community and has placed an emphasis on dental aid. A spaghetti dinner was held at McMaster Park on Tuesday, March 23, with the first $50 going to the dental health association. The entire board assisted Mrs. Mellor in this venture and sixth grade students assisted in serving the dinner.

pected to follow these conditions closely, it was disclosed. The conditions call for: no display or storage of materials; no equipment or machinery except housekeeping utilities; no signs; no parking of commercial vehicles; no more than 10 per cent of floor space used for business purposes; no use of the garage which would cause the car to remain parked on the street.

THE TEA WHICH MRS. FLOYD WHITE attended at the home of Mrs. C. C. Hill recently, turned into a twin baby shower, when the executive board of 186th Street P-TA appeared, each bearing a gift in duplicate. Gifts were presented in a basinet. Games were played and refreshments served. Hostesses were Mesdames C. C. Hill, A. B. Pond, W. A. S. Douglas, and R. Powell.

Picture Story—Mobilgas Economy Run

20 American cars average 21.8 miles per gallon in 1335-mile road test

In the greatest road test of American stock cars, 20 automobiles competed for sweepstakes and price class honors in the 1954 Mobilgas Economy Run. This is a picture story of the greatest stock car test to demonstrate the basic economy built into today's cars.

MAXIMUM LEGAL SPEED—
American Automobile Association deputies in every car made certain that all speed and traffic laws were rigidly observed. AAA Contest Board certified every car strictly stock.

1335 RUGGED MILES—
From Los Angeles via Yosemite National Park to San Francisco, then across the Sacramento Valley, through Reno, across the arid regions of Nevada, and finally into the mountains and on to Sun Valley.

SEA LEVEL TO 7135 FEET—
Through city traffic, across the desert, and over tortuous snow-packed mountain roads, altitudes ranged from sea level to 7135 feet. Temperature variations from freezing to desert heat.

SCHOOL'S OUT—
All along the 1335-mile course, school kids, business leaders, city fathers, farmers saluted stalwart drivers as cars streak through three states.

TEAR IT DOWN—
Automotive and petroleum engineers will tear down many engines, check plugs, piston heads, rings to check performance of New Mobiloil Special used by all entrants.
