See's to Open First Drive-In Candy Shop

The fast-growing Torrance area will be the proving ground for the first drive-in candy shop ever opened by See's Candy shops.

The "candy drive-in" is located on Pacific Coast Highway, where the highway curves east of the Palos Verdes cut-off.

Under construction for the past three months, the See's shop, Laurance See, president of the company, explained to

"There are many reasons why we selected the Torrance area for our first drive-in candy in this area, and our customers have had to drive a considerable distance to buy our candies.

"Secondly, it is our belief that Southern Californians are now doing more and more 'shopping on wheels.' By providing a drive-in candy shop, with ample parking facilities, we hope to offer a much-needed service to 'shoppers on wheels' and passing motorists."

If this drive-in proves successful, See's plans to open others throughout the state.
