

Torrance BPW Plan PV Dinner At Business Meet

The Business and Professional Women of Torrance held their business meeting last Monday evening in the City Hall, at which time Virginia Beck and Mollie Marshall gave a report on the State Convention in San Francisco last month.

Monday, June 21, is the date set for the dinner meeting at La Venta Inn in Palos Verdes. It is planned to have a guest speaker from the Marineland of the Pacific at Point Vicente.

WORKER BURIED ALIVE

Billy Stultz, 24, 20712 Oak street, was trapped under tons of earth for 3 1/2 hours in a cesspool cave-in in Portuguese Bend last Friday. Three huge 300-pound rocks, which stacked up over his head producing an air pocket, were largely responsible for his miraculous escape, according to Battalion Chief L. B. Brewer of the county fire department.

Stultz was working with Henry Miranda of Rivera. The two were drilling a cesspool hole at the home of Al Bjorkland on a site at Seabench and Beachcomber roads at the Portuguese Bend club.

Cave-In Miranda reported that Stultz went in the 15-foot deep hole to dislodge a rock. The south wall of the pit gave way suddenly and buried Stultz except for his hands.

Miranda leaped into the hole and clawed through the dirt and small rocks to clear an air passage for Stultz. Another workman raced for aid.

The rocks both helped and hindered the rescue. A. W. Drury of Compton, owner of the drilling company, arrived on the scene at 2:30 p.m., about an hour after the cave-in.

Isen Elected To Red Cross Post

It was announced this week by the Torrance branch of American National Red Cross that Albert Isen has been elected chairman of the Torrance branch for 1954-55. Assisting him will be vice-chairman Mrs. Lee McMillen; secretary, Mrs. William Cochran; and treasurer, Mrs. G. Douglas Thomas.

The election was held at the city hall recently and was presided over by "Dick" Felker, outgoing chairman, who will remain on the board of directors. Also attending the meeting was Victor Davenport, Los Angeles representative, new director for the southern cities, and Roger Lydon, assistant director of disaster services from Los Angeles chapter.

GIVE THEM WORK

By MRS. HERMA TILLIM, Guest Editor

Mr. and Mrs. Torrance — It is that time again when you should consider what our boys and girls are going to do with their spare time. Are we going to let them be idle, discontented and develop irresponsible habits? It is your problem as mine.

These boys and girls need jobs.

We no longer live in a society in which each family is able to keep its own children busy. Almost all recreation costs money. Our boys and girls want to earn this money for themselves.

The Youth Employment Service at 1628 Gramercy has about 750 applications from these young people. Some of them are high school graduates seeking careers or summer jobs so that they may attend college in the fall. Others are undergraduates wishing to earn enough for clothes for the next year of school. Some are just trying to earn spending money. But all of them want to keep busy and to keep out of trouble.

When you employ these boys and girls remember you are dealing with people who wish to be adults. Give them the same consideration you would an adult. They cannot and do not wish to take the place of mature people, but they do want to start training to take their place in the adult society.

The Youth Employment Service started in May 1953 with Dale Isenberg, Warren Hamilton, Wendel Walker and the writer as the adult advisory board. William Harlicker served as student representative. William is chairman of the youth committee this year, assisted by Jerry Reiss, Louis Holtorf, Diane Larson and Grace Maddy. These young people are looking for financial donations or a civic group to sponsor them. They have office space and furniture at no cost but it is asking too much to expect a boy or girl to donate his or her time.

This service in no way duplicates the work of the State Department of Employment, nor of a private agency, as it deals only with students and inexperienced graduates.

The high school job placement service ends with the close of school. The youngsters need your help. The members of the adult committee feel themselves well repaid in the knowledge of having helped keep our boys and girls good citizens. Won't you share in our satisfaction by finding something for which you can use one of these youngsters? You will find any kind of help you desire.

Please give our boys and girls a chance.

Oceanarium Starts Search For 'Alice In Marineland'

"Alice in Marineland," as depicted by Milt Kahl, one of Walt Disney's top animators, will guide judges in their selection of the young girl who'll preside over opening festivities of the sponsoring Marineland of the Pacific. Festivities are scheduled for mid-July according to Ray W. Smith, vice-president and general manager.

Kahl has been named to be public may view through large glass windows surrounding the giant tanks harboring them.

Qualifications The competition is open to girls throughout the Southland, between 10 and 13 years of age. All will be automatically entered upon receipt of a recent snapshot, together with information giving name, address, telephone, school and grade, by the sponsors.

Material should be addressed to Oceanarium, Inc., Portuguese Bend on or before June 11. Only photographs accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope may be returned. Winner will receive a valuable prize.

Judging of finalists is scheduled for June 21, in time for "Alice" to reign over the opening of her wonderland of underwater life at Marineland.
