Fire Mess Clean-Up Ordered

Twenty-five property owners petitioned the city council to take immediate steps to clean up the mess left by the Pacific Waste Products fire at 213th street and Cabrillo. The city attorney was ordered to take instant action.

The petition also asks that the council forbid the establishment of a similar enterprise at that location in the future. Attention was called to the unsightly condition near the main entrance to the city of Torrance by a picture in this newspaper last week.

Voting Promoted By Alter Realty

In order to stimulate voting, Alter Realty and Insurance, local realtors have introduced a novel system whereby all employees who vote are eligible to win prizes. Signed election stubs are used to determine the winner.

This innovation will hold at all future elections, according to Gerald L. Alter, president of the realty corporation.

Prize winner last Friday morning was Harry Peterson, salesmanager at the main office on Marcelina avenue.

Elks Lodge Organized By 15 Torrance Men

A committee of fifteen members has been formed for the purpose of organizing a Torrance lodge of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks.

Meetings are being held on Wednesday evenings at 8 p.m. in the First Christian Church building on Engracia avenue and Arlington. At the June 9 meeting, with district deputy, Grand Exalted Ruler Roy J. Gordon present, the following officers were elected: Joseph E. Yates, chairman; George J. Lehr, secretary; M. L. Fenwick, treasurer. Standing committees will be named at a future date.

All Elks who reside in Torrance are cordially invited to attend these meetings and to become active in organizing the lodge. For information contact George J. Lehr, 1023 Paysmith avenue, Torrance, whose phone number is FA. 8-3578.

33 Torrance Students Graduate From El Camino

Commencement exercises for the seventh graduating class of El Camino College will be conducted tomorrow at 4 p.m. in the college stadium.

President Forrest G. Murdock will present the class for its degrees. R. J. Black, president of the college board of trustees officiating at this ceremony. Benediction will be given by the Rev. Lowen.

Pittsburgh Paint Wins Citation

Pittsburgh Plate Glass company's paint manufacturing plant her has been cited by the National Safety Council for its perfect safety record last year.

Hershel E. Post, general manager of Pacific Coast operations, announced that the local paint plant has received a certificate of commendation from the National Safety Council for completing the 1953 calendar year without a lost-time accident.

During 1953 Torrance employees worked nearly 400,000 accident-free man-hours to win Pittsburgh Plate's top safety award, the certificate of honor. In chalking up one of the safest years since the plant was placed in operation three years ago, they worked approximately 17,000 more man-hours than in 1952.

Approve Plans For Improving Crenshaw Blvd.

Final plans for the improvement of Crenshaw boulevard from Palos Verdes drive north to the Torrance city limits were approved today by County Supervisor Burton W. Chace.

At the same time, the Board of Supervisors called for bids on the improvement which also anticipates resurfacing of approximately one mile of the three-lane roadway.
