

by the Metropolitan Water District.

Representatives of the various water producers signified that their firms would sign the agreement when they gathered at the Palos Verdes Country Club here last week. Such assurance came from representatives of more than 70 per cent of the producers, the minimum number necessary to make the agreement valid.

Effective

The pact will go into effect 90 days after it is adjudicated, Fossette stated.

The committee which drew up the agreement is headed by Rex Goodell, attorney for the Los Angeles city bureau of water and power.

Communities included in the West Basin are Torrance, Lomita, the South Bay Cities, Lawndale, Inglewood and portions of Los Angeles.

Horace C. Larsen has been assigned as teacher in the Torrance Unified School District for the coming school year.

WOMAN LEAPS...

Francisco said she tried to stop Mrs. Moerbeck, her daughter, from jumping by holding on to her dress, but it ripped and she fell, narrowly missing jagged rocks.

Mrs. Moerbeck apparently leaped on impulse, police said. She jumped from the observation platform at the historic Cliff House.

According to her husband, she had driven up to the Bay city with friends to visit her mother. Moerbeck also said his wife had been under the care of a psychiatrist for nearly one year.

Torrance Demos Meet Next Tuesday Nite

The Torrance Democrats, Inc., will meet Tuesday evening, August 10, at 7:30 p.m. at the CIO Hall, 1316 Border avenue, for their regular monthly business session. Club activities and important issues will be discussed, including plans for the rummage sale to be held September 21.

ZONING...

mission will be present with a zoning map of Lomita. Regional Planning Commission. "This is a matter of self-preservation," McCormick said. "Property values in Lomita have been lowered because we lack zoning laws. We are trying to prevent construction of various types of buildings within a small area."

As a part of Los Angeles County, there are no zoning regulations in Lomita. McCormick pointed out that it is suicidal planning to construct residential and business structures without a master plan. He explained that this leads to pockets of business areas encircled by the residential community.

McCormick emphasized that the continuance of no zoning might be the first step in breaking up Lomita's identity, making the community ripe for being observed either into Los Angeles or Torrance. He said that some opposition to a zoning plan could be anticipated.

Inform Residents
McCormick's group will acquaint residents of Lomita with zoning regulations, laws governing zoning of property and benefits that can be derived from careful zone planning.

Others serving with McCormick on the advisory zoning committee include Mrs. Edith Smith, secretary; Glen Keith, Leonard Loy, Mrs. Frank Atkinson, Mrs. Bruce Schweitzer, Mrs. Lloyd Powell, the L. E. Rosses, Mrs. Mary Shugot and Ray Bullock.

CIVIC GROUP SPONSORS BREAKFAST

The North Torrance Civic Association sponsored a breakfast meeting at 7:30 a.m. last Friday morning in McMaster's Hall, at which there was a good representation from the merchants and professional people of North Torrance.

John Crane, in conducting the gathering, urged the businessmen to work in cooperation with the property owners and the association, and Mrs. Herma Tillim, treasurer, extended an open invitation to the business people present to become members of the Civic Improvement Association, and to work with them towards their goal of civic betterment.

Stan Voges of Inglewood Farms addresses the group, stressing the need for complete understanding between the property owners and the business people. Voges has worked hard on the Community Fair queen program, being tops in sales for tickets promoting their Queen candidate.

It was also urged to support Councilman Vic Benstead's proposal calling for a land use survey for the establishment of more commercial zones.

The next meeting of the association will be at 8:30 p.m. on August 13 at the offices of Severin Real Estate, 3021 W. 174th street.

Barba P. Watwood has been assigned as teacher in the Torrance Unified School District for the coming school year.

tanks, the Oceanarium will feature smaller aquaria for displaying colorful tropical fish of Hawaii and an under-sea cave for giant octopuses. Over one million gallons of sea water will be pumped into the Oceanarium from the nearby Pacific, at the rate of 2000 gallons per minute. Passing through the filtering beds, the water will be cleared of algae for clear vision.

A display of thousands of fish will be maintained at the Oceanarium. To obtain this number of specimens Marine-land operates its own collecting vessel.

Grounds

Outside of the Oceanarium proper, visitors to Marineland of the Pacific will find a large picnic ground, a 1600 car parking lot, a smart gift shop, post office, film shop and snack bar. Marineland restaurant, bar coffee shop and Marineland Inn will be open in September. The Inn will provide hotel accommodations in individual units now being constructed on terraces overlooking the Pacific and Santa Catalina Island.

Barbara P. Watwood has been assigned as teacher in the Torrance Unified School District for the coming school year.
