Ranch Market Celebrates Grand Opening

Supplying great quantities of fresh from the ranch fruits, vegetables and eggs, as well as other table delicacies, Hawthorne Ranch Market last week opened the doors of a brand new building at the corner of Prairie avenue and Compton boulevard.

The market will be operated by owners, Arthur and Nish Kerkorian, with the advice and assistance of their father, Ahron Kerkorian, since 1905 a produce rancher and market operator. Formerly owning a ranch consisting of about 3000 acres in Fresno, the elder Kerkorian went to Bakersfield to engage in the produce business and finally to Los Angeles in 1912. He has two other children besides Arthur and Nish, a daughter, Rose, and Kirk Kerkorian, who operates the Los Angeles Air Service in 120th street in Hawthorne, presently engaged in government contract work.
