Checker Gets Hiccups As Chosen Queen For A Day

How it feels to be "Queen For A Day" was pretty aptly described by Mrs. Mary Alice Hodges of 1003 Portola avenue, Torrance. Petite 27-year-old Mrs. Hodges is a checker at the Jim Dandy Market, and has four small sons, Robert 8, William 5, Richard 4, and Gary who is 2.

The attractive brunette was chosen winner last week on the famous Jack Bailey TV show. Her reaction when her number was called and she was escorted to the stage was semi-shock, she said. She shook so badly she dropped her handkerchief, and when she was on the stage she described her utter confusion. "First thing I got the hiccups. I couldn't move. I thought 'I'll bet my slip is showing,' then my nose felt like it was running."

Winning Request
Her request that won the sympathy of the audience and the fabulous prizes, was for a kitchen table and chairs. These were sorely needed, as being the sole support of her family she had had to sell some of her furniture for food, and the family was using a borrowed card table and sitting on boxes.

Indeed, she got the table and chairs. . . a lovely chrome set, plus a set of dishes, sterling silver, complete wardrobe, fitted Evans handbag, disposal, food freezer, Westinghouse floor polisher, Samsonite luggage, wristwatch, jewelry, and other very acceptable prizes.

The day following the show she was chauffeured to Warner Bros. for a tour of the studio, to the House of Westmore for a complete beauty treatment, thence to the Knickerbocker for cocktails, the Beachcomber for hors d'oeuvres, and to the Coconut Grove for the evening. She is presently enjoying a three-day sojourn at Villa Marina in Ensenada with the compliments of the show sponsors, Old Gold and White King.

Mr. and Mrs. Salvador F. DiMaggio, of 2134 W. 17th St., Gardena, announce the birth of a daughter, Lynn Frances, weighing 7 pounds and 3/4 ounces.
