NAUTICAL: Elegant coat of "Vicunaire" features the new Navy influence with its star-studded sailor collar.

Navy Inspiration For Many New Fashions

By MARY BARRETT, Women's Editor

Ahoy, mates. Make room for the navy, for it plays an important role in the fashion picture this season. Have you ever seen so many middy tops featured... not only in the traditional navy blue with white braid, but all the new vibrant colorings of the season.

Coats, jackets, weskits, and even dresses go nautical with the squared sailor collar often embroidered or braided with glittering stars, anchors, or other sea-going motifs.

The neckwear counters are offering separate sailor collars to go on everything you own in the way of simple frocks and sweaters. For the new look, add a jaunty sailor-knotted tie. The collars themselves can be velvet, satin, jersey, or crisp white cotton.

Jewelry counters will supply you with pin-on emblems of nautical flavor to accent the wide expanse of collar.

Sailor Lacings and Buttons

Blouses, sweaters, and dresses emphasize the navy trend with sailor-lacings, used to add interest here and there... at the hips... at the neckline... on an otherwise extremely plain silhouette. Even bulky tweeds say "anchors aweigh," as they are fashioned into feminized versions of the tar's pea jacket. The orderly lineup of sailor-pants buttoning gives a trig look to svelte skirts and slender pants.

Coordinates and team-mate ensembles are shown with the relaxed middy top over a slim pleated skirt... even taking on an authentic navy tie as the neckline.

Hats, too, borrow their design from the navy, or navies of the world, as English, French, and Italian tars lend their flat-top berets, knits with pom-poms atop, visored brims, and bloused crowns.

Navy Uniforms for School

For big 'n little sister in the fashion swim at school, charming little sailor dresses are being shown in cottons... printed and plain dark colors... accepted with dazzling crisp white sailor collars of pique with a matching or contrasting stripe edging the collar. A large sailor tie is added, and you have a charming combination for any young miss.

Oil Business is Local Business

Just like the corner grocery or the neighborhood barber shop the oil business in Torrance is a local business employing many local people to serve not only the needs of this community, but thousands of others throughout the West as well.

Here in Torrance, General Petroleum Corporation operates one of the most modern refineries in the world. Employment is provided for many residents of this city in addition to folks from neighboring communities.

As residents of Southern California these people earn their livelihood here, pay their taxes here, take part in community activities, shop at locally owned stores, and raise their families here. Like you and your neighbor next door, this is their home — they take pride in its accomplishments and have a stake in its future.

They are the local citizens who help comprise the oil industry of Torrance and Southern California.
