Hostess Fashions Can be Comfy, Chic

By MARY BARRETT,
Women's Editor

With Thanksgiving a week away, most homemakers are busily readying for the festive occasion... planning the traditional menu, perhaps... getting the house in order, and counting the guests to be invited for family dinners.

Informality is the usual order, and is observed in what we wear as well as how the meal is served, buffet suppers being so popular. How reassuring it is to know that today's fashions afford glamour combined with the utmost in comfort.

Hostess Needs Comfort

If anyone at a dinner party needs to be comfortable, it is the hostess herself, as she must be constantly attentive to her guests, needs and comfort. However, she need not look the part of the tired overworked cook, if she chooses clothes with sparkle and color which at the same time give her ease and freedom of movement.

If they become you, the stunning tapered pants of velveteen may be teamed up with the most glamorous shirts of satin, surah silk, or sheen broadcloth. If the day is cool, choose a sweater instead... one with a scoop of bateau neck, maybe... but see that it has a few points of glitter to add the festive touch.

Comfy Holiday Skirts

For the fuller-figured, or for anyone, there are the beautiful full or circular skirts in felt, velvet, or velveteen with gay touches of sparkle or applique. Even cottons are unusually fine, and gala full skirts which afford comfort and ease of motion can be had in opulent weaves and colors that challenge the finest silks for glamour. Spark your twosome of skirt or pants and top with a contrasting bold-colored cummerbund.

Wear some of your prettiest ropes of beads, or make yourself one of those beguiling velvet-covered cord neckties with sequined and beaded tie-ends... spark your hairdo with a bit of bright velvet ribbon... wear festive earrings.

Glamorous Footwear

Where comfort is concerned, your feet should be given prime consideration... remember they will be as busy as your hands, and will also be in the spotlight. For pretty feet there has never been offered such a scintillating array of comfortable, leisurely, at-home footwear.

The comfy little shoes with sparkle may be chosen at budget prices to match any part of your outfit... high color in shoes has never enjoyed a bigger field day than in the new casuals and at-home shoes.
