It's June and for most of us that means a month full of presents for Graduations, Weddings, Father's Day and many more occasions that are going to dig a little deeper into the family budget. With all the little extra expenses that June means, you'll be wise to shop at the Food Giant this weekend and take advantage of our June Food Sale. The savings that you make here can be used to stretch the budget for all the little things that are sure to crop up.
