

DEAR EDITOR....

Thinks Rabies Law 'Narrow-Minded'

Editor
Torrance Press
During twenty years spent in Colorado, fifteen years in Washington, and six years in California, have not come into contact with the sudden danger of rabies that has become so prevalent in the city of Torrance.

These vaccines will make millions for the vendors. During the recent campaign carried on in the Los Angeles area, many letters from dog owners and veterinarians alike gave proof of the danger and also cases of death to the dogs due to this vaccine.

What of those who on religious grounds have proved their method most efficient in their own experience? Are those of other opinions going to dictate the terms for them to use for their pets? If America cannot be free, where can one go for their rights of opinion?

I know of many people opposed to this law. Yet the Torrance papers have made it appear there is only one against this anti-rabies law. Torrance is growing so let us not make it a small town by forcing narrow-minded opinions on its residents. To keep dogs on one's own yard or otherwise on a leash would answer to the fear of some and also work well to the satisfaction of those desiring to have a beautiful yard.

Sincerely,
(s) MRS. ROSALIE F. ANDERSON

Editor's Note: The fact that among 1 1/2 million dogs vaccinated, not one died or suffered from the shots should be pretty conclusive evidence as to the safety of the vaccine.

Junior NRA Rifle Winners Announced

Jerry Newman of 1811 Andree avenue, Torrance, won top honors last Sunday firing the .22 caliber rifle in the Standing position of the junior 50 foot course of the National Rifle Association of America.

The 13-year-old lad won the gold Pacific Angels Junior Rifle Club trophy for standing position donated by the National Supply Rod and Gun Club for the monthly shooting matches held on the Gaffey street range.

Donald Fogg, 12, of 24230 Madison street, Torrance, won top honors in the prone match, winning the gold Junior Master Class trophy. John Hill took first place in the Open Class, Norman Rees placed second for the Gunn Trophy, Gene Brunner, third, and Jimmie Sumner took fourth place trophy.

John Petrich placed first to win the coveted Pacific Angels Junior Expert Rifle Trophy in his second match. Gary Evans, second, Clifford Rhodes, third, and Billy Witscher, fourth. Johnny Forsberg won the first place Sharpshooter trophy, Virgil Clyde, second; Larry Farr, third; and Joe Burkhardt fourth.

Marksman Class first place went to Joe Gualeni, Kenny Mulholland, second; Ronnie Sumner, third; and Wayne Tatum placed fourth for a gold cup.

Jay Scott, first place in Tyro Class; Wilfred LaPointe, second; Bill Smith, third; and Martha Jirousek won first place in the Girl Rifle Trophy division.

These youngsters are students of Miss Ann Frickman, certified rifle and pistol instructor by the National Rifle Association of America, who conducts the NRA small arms

Y-Teens Return From Asilomar

With the 1955 Asilomar Leadership Conference for Y-teens members of the YWCA over, the ten Harbor District girls who served as delegates are enthusiastically recalling the fun and the inspiration of this week-long conference which brought together girls from the 11 Western states and Hawaii.

Arlene Lesar, a delegate from the Harbor District Association and a Delta Y-teen participated in a panel on "WE-The World." This section was led by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mills who work as a leadership team. Mr. Mills is head of the Friends International Center near the UCLA campus and Mrs. Mills is associated with him in this work. Both have had previous experience as YW and YM staff members.

A forum panel discussed "Convention Echoes" considering such questions as: "How can we as Y-teens become more responsible citizens? How can Y-teens interpret the YWCA? and How can we bring about a working together of Y-teens and adults?"

The girls who attended the conference from the Harbor District were Roberta Hale, Carol Thompson, Janet Sanders, Patty Jo Blakeney, Barbara Balow, Donna Walker, Linda Wiese, Arlene Lesar, Judy Drake, and Sally Salmon.

Marian Fatout, District teenage director and Carolyn Reich, San Pedro teenage director accompanied the girls and assisted at the conference.

training school every Sunday on the Gaffey street range in San Pedro. Next class begins July 10 at 1 p.m. and continues every Sunday at that time. Youngsters interested in having basic rifle training and the Hunter Safety Training for hunting license, should bring a .22 caliber rifle to the range and enroll Sunday.

Chief Up in Air 145 Hours; Only 4559 To Go for Record

Celebrating 145 hours already in the air, Chief High Trader, Hermosa Beach's would-be world champion flag pole sitter, received a giant birthday cake from the Davy Crockett Girls.

The cake baked by the girls [the rope and box which daily themselves, was sent aloft by carries three meals up the 65-foot pole which is the "permanent" tepee of the skyhigh daredevil.

Promised a new Pontiac car if he beat the present record of 196 days, Chief High Trader, who is really a local aircraft worker named Floyd Fox, was hoisted up last Sunday to his five foot square platform.

Sponsoring the sitting is the Twin Pontiac agency in Hermosa Beach on whose property at 505 Pacific Coast Highway the giant pole is located. Adv.
