Long View in Decorating Gains Favor

Many home owners are taking a "long view" in the matter of decorating and redecorating walls and ceilings.

Realizing that over the years a surprising lot of effort and expense can be put into materials that last only a short time, these home owners are making greater use of materials made for long service.

Walls and ceilings to be covered with temporary materials may need laborious washing, careful removal of old material or other preparation which may take more effort than the actual redecorating. Such procedure can add up to a heavy toll on the home owner's time, or his pocketbook.

Moreover, materials with a short life often tend to require much upkeep between redecorating projects.

Among home owners who give weight to the advantages of long, trouble-free service, a favorite material is a prefinished hardboard paneling decorated in plain colors, wood grains and marble patterns.

A baked plastic surface gives lasting protection to the paneling's beauty, sealing it from the assaults of dirt, stains, grease, moisture and wear. Because foreign particles cannot form a firm bond to the surface, it is easily wiped clean with a damp or sudsy cloth. The paneling needs no redecorating for the finish is fused under high heat to the tempered hardboard base.

Marlite can be put right over old wall surfaces, with the removal of any loose materials and excessive dirt as the only preparation. Large 4-foot wide sheets are applied with wall-board adhesive. In the form of tongue-and-groove planks and blocks, the paneling is secured with the same kind of adhesive, plus special metal clips that are hidden in the joints.

Den Mothers Of Pack 228C Elect Officers

Mothers of Den 3, Pack 228C, held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Louis Funk, 1527 213th st., to elect new officers.

Elected were: Mrs. Lucille Wilson, chairman; Mrs. Betty Randall, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Evelyn Albes, treasurer; and Mrs. Lena Poulter, public chairman.

Next meeting will be held on Wednesday, February 15.

Plans were made for the Blue and Gold Dinner to be held at Normandie park on Tuesday, February 28.

It was announced that Monday, February 6, through Sunday, February 12, will be Scout Week; and the boys will wear their uniforms to school and to church.

The answers to everyday insurance problems

By Les King

QUESTION: I was recently involved in an automobile collision. The other driver and I both carry Liability insurance only. Shouldn't his Company pay for the damage to my car and my Company do the same for him?

ANSWER: No, the Company insuring whichever driver is at fault will pay for the damage to the other car only. Better carry collision insurance.
