

Rodeo . . .

In professional bareback bronc riding the rider has only a simple leather handhold on a surcingle, no saddle or rein. He must spur the horse over the point of the shoulders on the first jump out of the chute and should spur to the end of the ride to win. He must hang on for eight seconds and cannot touch the horse or the rigging with his free hand.

In calf roping, the contestant works against a stop watch. He tries to rope a calf, dismount, flank the calf and tie any three feet together in the shortest time possible. He gets two tries if he carries two loops made up into the arena.

To make a qualified ride the saddle bronc rider must spur the horse out of the chute as in bareback riding, and stick it out for eight or ten seconds, depending on the rules agreed on here. He rides an "association" saddle whose standard design has been approved by the R.C.A., and has only a rough braided rope rein to hang onto.

If he loses a stirrup, touches the horse, rein or saddle with his free hand, he's disqualified. And to earn the winning marking he should spur the horse from shoulder to cantle board throughout the ride.

The steer wrestler drops from the saddle of a high-balling horse to the horns of a galloping steer, brings it to a stop, and twists it down until all four legs are pointed out free. His is a race against time. To help the steer run straight, he has a helper, or hazer, riding on the opposite side of the animal.

Rodeo's roughest contest is brahma bull riding. The bull rider has only a loose rope without knots or hitches that is held around the bull solely by the pressure of the rider's grip. He must ride for eight seconds with one hand free. But the ride is only half of it since the brahmas are always ready to kill a man with their hooves or horns.

Stock at the Torrance Rodeo will be furnished by Andy Jauregui, Newhall, Calif.

"Any paper, any rags, any bones to-day" is the slogan being used by the Torrance Rebekah Lodge for their present drive. Members are ringing a cow bell, having a lot of fun and making a tidy sum of money for the lodge at the same time. Seen above are Mrs. Maude Milburn and Mrs. Alice Jennings.

League of Women Voters Meet Aug. 15

A meeting of the Palos Verdes League of Women Voters will be held at the Art Gallery of the Palos Verdes library on Wednesday evening, August 15, at 8 p.m. Husbands and friends of members are invited as well as any interested woman in the South Bay area.

Mrs. G. A. Owens, Rolling Hills sealed deputy registrar of voters, will be present to give information about voting registration rules. Other registrars will be present to accommodate anyone in attendance not yet registered. This meeting is a preliminary to the state organization's drive which will begin September 6-13 in accordance with the league's non-partisan principles of advocating full and active participation of all citizens in government.

The process of the national conventions of the two major political parties will also come under discussion.

Mrs. Max Thompson of South Pasadena, the league's state chairman for education will discuss California education as an introduction to more intensive study planned at a local level.

One of the outstanding features of the new city hall is the ultra-modern chandelier in the lobby which is of spun aluminum hand-rubbed to burnished perfection.

It was created by Varner in conjunction with John Mitchell to maximize the effectiveness of the two stories of bouquet canyon flagstone which curves about the winding staircase.

On the front of the police station is a specially designed pattern of raised and lowered brick which is not only unique but also so difficult to build that there are only five master craftsmen on the West Coast who are capable of fashioning the intricate design, it was stated.

Color was used to great advantage in the new buildings. While most public buildings use only one or two colors, more than 40 different shades of color have been used in the various rooms.

Even the cell blocks of the jail have been painted pastel shades.

The colors in each office have been selected to blend and complement the view from the respective office windows.

Fernand Barrett, nationally known decorator, has selected the furnishings and decorations for the interiors.

Oil Paintings

Fifty original oil paintings, valued at $10,000, have been placed throughout the buildings. The paintings were presented to the city by Milton Kauffman and Don Wilson, leading home developers.

The jail has accommodations for both men and women. In addition there are individual isolation cells for juveniles. This latter feature makes the local jail one of the very few in the state which conforms with the latest requirements of the State Department of Corrections and the California Youth Authority. In most other jails, juveniles are detained in group cells, or are locked up with adult inmates.

Stage and screen star Thomas Mitchell, presently seen in "Mayor of the Town," will also be present for the festivities.

Who Said High Cost Of Living?

Coincident with the tremendous expansion of the "Fastest Growing City in the World" Torrance is at times beset with a problem of housing its bachelor workers. However, there is gold mine available in the neighboring city of San Pedro where a YMCA is located within a block of public transportation to Torrance.

This YMCA with its 274 rooms is prepared to offer rooms at an exceptionally low cost per week including room service, as well as all the facilities of the YMCA, which include swimming pool, clubs, counseling, billiards, gymnasium, team games, among others. Meal service is also available from 6 a.m. until 8 p.m. As a special convenience the YMCA will also pack lunches for workers who so desire.
