PIONEERS PAST and PRESENT

Back in 1873 when the first Ralphs store opened, most folks butchered their own meat, smoked or pickled it to have food for days to come. To those families of long ago, Ralphs brought a dependable source of fresh meat in variety and prime quality, and established the standards of cleanliness, courtesy, lower prices, and service that endure to this day!

Today, Ralphs meats are all top quality, properly "conditioned" by advanced methods to assure tenderness and flavor... trimmed before weighing... then packaged in sealed wrap, and priced, per pound and per package, under constant refrigeration. Yet, as in 1873, custom-cutting to suit the most particular taste, courteous service, and lowest prices are Ralphs traditions.

... and FUTURE! For 84 years, Ralphs has never been afraid to "tackle the new or improve the old"... so whatever new discoveries science unfolds, you may be sure they will be adapted to your convenience, at Ralphs!
