Mayor...
cast his vote in case of a tie. Present to urge the new move were J. A. Beasley, Mrs. Herma Tillim, John Barton, Thirvin Fleetwood, John Mulvihill, and a letter from the North Torrance Civic Assn.

Comments
"I've occupied this seat for two years," Mayor Albert Isen commented. "I've been in favor of this new move from the very beginning. It's Democratic and the people have a right to choose their own mayor. I propose that this move is no criticism of my term in office."
Other councilmen also praised the new move.
"I've advocated this for some time," Councilman Nick Draie, who made the motion, declared. "I think we're all shooting for the same thing." Councilman Willys Blount, who seconded Draie's motion, said, "I have no objections to a seven-man council, including the mayor and that the mayor should have all the rights of a councilman."
Councilman Robert A. Jahn declared himself "in favor."
Councilman Victor E. Benstead said that he was "for electing the mayor at large" and for increasing the number of councilmen.
The audience broke into spontaneous applause following the council's action.

Bonds...
bonds will not be sold unless the federal government allots money to pay for 54 per cent of the airport expansion as anticipated.
Both the airport bond issue and the $3,000,000 recreation bonds are said to "go hand in hand."
Some of the land to be acquired as a clear zone for the airport, it was indicated, would be used to drain property proposed for a park.
Tentative new park sites to be acquired are as follows: 166th st. and Arlington (six acres); 178th st. and Western (10 acres); 190th st. and Crenshaw (25 acres); 186th st. and Prairie (five acres); civic center (15 acres); Victor precinct (five acres); Border and Plaza del Amo (five acres); 231st and Arlington (six acres); Walteria Lake (42 acres); south end of Madison st. (13 acres).

'Motel'... with a request to consider rezoning the property to single-family residential use.
In an attempt to arrive at a compromise, the Planning Commission heard a proposal by homeowners to permit single-family units along the beach and a hotel development at the top of the hill.
Don-Ja-Ran officials, who indicated their willingness to arrive at a compromise, took a dim view of this plan.
Opposed to sending the issue back to the council at this time were Chairman Bert Lynn and Commissioners William King and Laurence Wing who felt the whole discussion should be postponed 60 days in an attempt to work out a compromise.
