FREEWAY PLANS MAPPED
Representatives of Inglewood and Torrance joined with other Southwest and South Bay cities and communities in supporting Supervisor Kenneth Hahn's proposal to expedite the completion of the Harbor freeway between 124th and 190th streets. Civic Leaders Map Plan To Complete Freeway

Unanimous agreement of the need to complete the next section of the Harbor freeway, between 124th and 190th streets, was emphasized today as County Supervisor Kenneth Hahn met with 40 civic leaders and public officials of the southwest and south bay cities and plans were worked out for a strong, united representation before the State Highway Commission, which meets in Sacramento, August 22 to budget funds for the coming year.

Hahn Heads Delegation
Supervisor Hahn will head a delegation of mayors or representatives from the cities of Gardena, Torrance, Inglewood, Los Angeles, Redondo Beach, Manhattan Beach, El Segundo, Hermosa Beach and Palos Verdes Estates. Contingent will also include representatives of chambers of commerce of the cities, the Harbor District Chamber of Commerce, and the Lawndale chamber.

Supervisor Hahn called today's meeting when it was learned that the next portion of the freeway was ready to advertise for construction bids, but that lack of funds was holding up the project.

Plans Are Ready
E. T. Telford, assistant state highway engineer in charge of the Los Angeles area, assured the group that he would recommend inclusion of the funds in the budget. He verified that plans are ready, right of way secured, and the project is ready for contract.

Rowley, right-of-way agent; Attorney, and Charles Welton, Don Davidson, president of the secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce and City Chamber of Commerce.
